Lowell City Council petitioned for creation of skateboard park

"Skateboarding is not a crime," Brinkley said. "This is the sport that these students have chosen to participate in. They want to stay out of trouble and they want a place of their own." After investigating a park in Vancouver, Washington, and talking to the designer, the students and some of their parents began to get an idea of what it would take and cost to build a skateboard park, Brinkley said.

skateboarding, that is.

Armed with a petition of almost 120 names and a lot of facts, a group of nine students, two parents, and a business owner came to the Monday night Lowell City Council meeting to propose the creation of a skateboard park. The park would be utilized by skateboarders, in-line skaters, and bikers.

"We don't have any place to skate," said Lowell tenthgrader Pat Brinkley, who added that by providing a place for people to skateboard, the city would be providing a safe place.

"This way, they don't have to worry about a board going into the street or us hitting someone," said tenth-grader P.J. Cook.

Currently, skateboarding is not allowed along Main Street and is banned in other areas of the city because of concerns with property damage and vandalism.

"I'm here to show my support," said Joanne Poulias, owner of Victorian Thymes Floral and Gift, Inc., 211 Main St. "When I have asked them, these kids have stopped skateboarding along the street and have been very nice and cooperative."

Poulias said she felt it was time the city did something for

The city council was receptive to the proposal and councilmember Donald Green, who sits on the Parks and Recreation Commission, suggested they bring the proposal to the Parks and Recreation Commission's next meeting in October. Green said Lowell Charter Township is currently working to develop its park, and residents might want to approach township officials about their idea.

Mayor Bill Thompson said it would be a good idea if organizers contacted other areas that have such parks in existence and see how they paid for them and maintain them.

Parents and students said they knew of parks in Kentwood, Grand Haven, Kalamazoo, Rockford, Belding, and Hastings, all of which offer a place to skate, but were too far for the students to go by themselves.

"I probably sound like a broken record, but the kids just want a place of their own," Brinkley said. "Besides, if we had a park, it certainly would be easy to find them. Where are your kids? They're at the skateboard park."

Fallasburg's 30th annual festival this weekend

By Thaddeus J. Kraus Lowell Ledger Edi-

The Fallasburg Fall Festival tradition was started by the West Michigan Historical Society (now the Fallasburg Historical Society) as a fund-raiser back in 1968.

Its draw has expanded well bethe yond Fallasburg borders over the last 30 years and now

Shortly after the Lowell Area Arts Council (LAAC) was incorporated as an organization in 1977, it was asked by the historical society to help with the festival. A shortage of manpower eventually led to LAAC coordinating the event.

Today, the festival serves as a significant financial provider towards LAAC's operation expenses.

TOWNSHIP OF GRATTAN COUNTY OF KENT, MICHIGAN NOTICE OF ADOPTION OF ZONING ORDINANCE AMENDMENTS AND SUMMARY OF THE

REGULATORY EFFECT THEREOF

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on September 14, 1998, the Township Board of the Township of Grattan adopted amendments in the Zoning Ordinance of the Township of Grattan. The regulatory effect of the Zoning Ordinance amendments can be summarized as follows:

. Channel and Canals. Section 3.55 is added to the Zoning Ordinance, so as to prohibit the excavation or other establishing of any channel, canal or similar waterway connecting to any lake, but excluding the lawful creation or enlargement of a pond not connecting to an existing lake, the lawful dredging of an existing canal or channel if the same is not enlarged or expanded, and also excluding certain other lawful dredging of existing lake bottom lands or in certain instances lawful dredging of land from the ordinary highwater mark of a

2. Communications Towers. Section 3.54 is added to the Zoning Ordinance, so as to state that a communications tower exceeding 75 feet in height may not be installed or maintained unless approved as a special land use. Section 13.26 is added so as to specify minimum requirements for communications towers exceeding 75 feet in height and approved as a special land use. Such minimum requirements include regulations on placement, access by other users, tower design, setbacks from lot lines, screening, illumination and other requirements. A definition of communications tower is added as Section 2.63.

Section 3.16 of the Zoning Ordinance is amended so as to add subsection J, stating that if land with frontage on a lake or stream is located within a zoning district where the minimum lot width requirement is greater than 80 feet, then the minimum water frontage requirement for the use of the lake or stream by non-frontage lands is to be incresed so as to equal the minimum lot width requirement of the zoning district in which the property is located.

Section 14.08, pertaining to planned unit developments, is amended concerning certain side yard setbacks in the residential PUD district and so as to provide that permitted uses in the industrial PUD district shall include uses permitted in the C-1 Commercial District, the C-2 Commercial District and the Industrial District.

5. Effective Date. The Zoning Ordinance amendments will become effective September 30, 1998.

A copy of the amending ordinance may be examined or purchased at the offices of the Grattan Township Clerk, 12050 Old Belding Road, within the Township, during Township office hours.

Mobility assistance available

Greater Lowell residents who need wheelchairs, electric scooters, walkers and other medical equipment now have a friend.

Mid West Health Care Providers will make those items available to senior citizens (65 years old and up) who need mobility assistance, usually at no cost for those who qualify. This service is also available to the permanently physically challenged of any age.

The requested item is delivered to the senior's home and instruction in operation is given if needed by the program case manager.

To schedule a "mobility needs" visit in your home or for more information to see if you qualify, call 1-800-707-

Dudeck's hobby brings class ring to surface

By Thaddeus J. Kraus Lowell Ledger Editor

Cassandra Swanson could not wait for school to start During the five-six weeks leading up to the senior's final year of high school, she lost her class ring and had knee surgery

Her luck began to change, though, once she got into her senior routine at Comstock Park High School. Her knee rehabilitation began to make great strides and she received word from the "attendance lady" at her high school that her class ring had been found.

Swanson had spent a few days before school started with her family at Hoffmaster State Park in Muskegon. While on the beach, the senior put her class ring in her shoe. Or so she thought. When she got ready to leave, her ring was not in her shoe.

"I went to get it out of my shoe and it wasn't there, Swanson explained.

The ensuing search came up empty. The class ring which she bought her sophomore year for $97 was gone. "I was considering buying a new one," Swanson said.

She wouldn't have to luck, good fortune and a man from Lowell would find her old class ring.

"The attendance lady at the school told me that a man from Lowell called the high school the Friday before Labor Day saying he had found my ring," Swanson explained. "I thought, how could that be, I haven't been anywhere near Lowell."

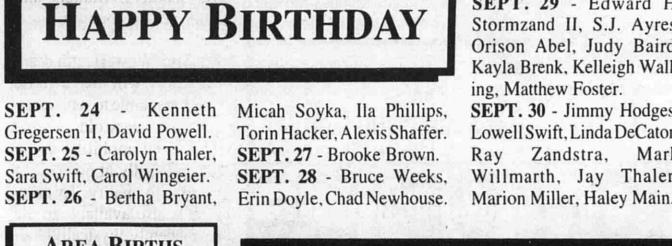

That may be, but retired Bushnell Elementary principal Louie Dudeck had been at Hoffmaster State Park with his metal detector

"I was on the beach for about an hour with my metal detector," Dudeck said. "I found a watch, earrings and two rings."

One of the rings was Swanson's. Her name was engraved on the inside of the band.

"I called Comstock Park several times and was unable to get a hold of her," Dudeck said. "Finally, I called her principal (Jonathan Prinz)."

Swanson was in choir when she was given a message that she was wanted in the principal's office. "That Class ring, cont'd. pg. 24

The Lowell Ledger-Wednesday, September 23, 1998-Page 3 KISD program calls on substitute teachers

Certified teachers seeking flexible work schedules are encouraged to return to school as substitutes through "Take Charge. Help Kids," a cooperative venture of Kent Intermediate and its 20-member school districts.

Kent ISD maintains a pool of qualified substitutes by registering applicants and conducting record checks on behalf of the school districts it serves. Approximately 1,000 substitutes are registered, and districts could use another 500 to 600, said Gerald Hunsburger, Kent ISD associate superintendent for administrative services.

"Thousands of certified teachers have left the classroom to raise a family or work in another field. The commitment they displayed in obtaining a teaching certificate indicates a desire to work with young people, and we would like to invite them back into the classroom as substitute teachers," Hunsburger said. As a substitute, certified teachers are given the opportunity to return to the classroom on their own schedule, he said. People seeking more information on how to become a substitute teacher should call Sue Crossman at 616-364-1333. State Department of Education records show more than 700,000 people have been certified as teachers since 1970, but only 100,000 are currently teaching, Hunsburger said.

"Kent Intermediate's member districts want to make the most of every minute our children spend in the classroom. "Take Charge. Help Kids" is an effort to maintain a high quality workforce, and give our children the best education possible," he said.

Kent ISD is a service agency dedicated to improving education throughout the region. It provides professional development, special education, career/technical education and administrative services to public, parochial and charter

DEAR JONATHAN: I plan on starting a business this year. corporation or a limited liability company. Some of the questions you will need to ask and answer when making this decision include:

- 1. Is it important to limit your personal liability for the debts of the business? If so, you may want to consider a corporation or a liability company.
- 2. Which form of legal entity will result in the least amount of taxes?
- 3. Are you to be involved in this business alone or will others participate?

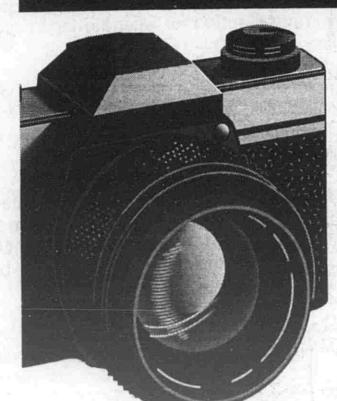

Sometimes people start their business as one type of legal entity with the idea that they may convert that business into another legal entity down the road. Consequently, you will want to make sure that whatever entity you begin with can be easily converted into another legal entity later on.

If you are going to be hiring employees, there are a lot of issues and responsibilities of which you must be aware. AGREEMENT. Rockford Ambulance, doing business as approximately 15.51 miles of local streets and 4.65 miles Lowell Ambulance, has been serving the Lowell area since 1988. A formal agreement was drawn in 1993 which identified insurances and responsibilities. With the current five year agreement expiring on September 30, a new contract has been proposed .

The only change in the agreement was an annual payment to Lowell Ambulance of $2,000, rather than $3,000 as previously required. This is in recognition of the Ambulance paying its remaining debt obligation toward the Look Memorial Fire Station.

City Manager Pasquale recommended this agreement

Director of Rockford Ambulance Roger Morgan was present to answer questions regarding the contract and the service.

Councilmember Myers asked if Rockford Ambulance ees. had a similar agreement with the City of Rockford.

Morgan stated there is no agreement with the City ing: Rockford, However, Rockford Ambulance has similar agreements with Keene, Vergennes and Lowell Townships.

Rockford Ambulance has provided services to the City of Rockford for 30 years. The City of Rockford usually donates $10,000 for capital equipment, but there is no formal agreement.

Item #3. PRESENTATION BY DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC WORKS DAN DESJARDEN, REVIEW OF THE DE-PARTMENT. Department of Public Works Director Dan DesJarden introduced the employees of the DPW.

DesJarden stated the City Mechanic Tom Hartman has been employed with the City for 16 years. He is responsible for over 50 vehicles including Lowell Light and ties available. Power, Lowell Fire Department, Lowell Police Department and DPW vehicles. Hartman's duties include the followina:

- routine maintenance on vehicles every 2,000 miles
- keeping an updated report on equipment - installing accessory equipment in city vehicles
- preparing bid specifications for new vehicles and equipment
- reporting to City Council monthly on job tasks performed

Water Distribution Supervisor Bob Robinson has been employed with the City for 12 years. There are approximately 1,300 water services throughout the city. The City Department of Public Works Director Dan DesJarden has 225 fire hydrants and eighteen to twenty miles of water mains. The City is currently seeking one more Councilmember Shores stated the report DesJarden presented was very helpful.

Councilmember Myers stated longevity of employees staying with the City is very good. DesJarden responded most of the employees live in the area.

Myers asked if the random drug testing was blood or urine. DesJarden responded both.

Councilmember Blough asked what type of training and educational opportunities have the DPW employees been receiving.

DesJarden responded some departments need continuous training to maintain a license in a particular field. New employees attend seminars and classes before attempting to receive a license. The seminars and classes are taken in the fall and winter, when the departments are not as busy.

Councilmember Blough asked Bob Robinson if he had been employed with other municipalities in water distribution. Robinson responded he had worked with other municipalities.

Responsibilities of this department include the following - street sweeping

- snow plowing streets and parking lots - preparing schedule for employees to work on weekends if streets need to be cleared of snow and ice

DeJong added all cemetery records are kept in the computer.

Councilmember Myers asked if the City kept an offsite backup file.

DeJong responded backup information is kept in notebooks offsite.

Councilmember Myers questioned what was the status of the contamination at Stoney Lakeside Park.

DesJarden stated the lake was open for swimming one week later. DesJarden noted areas were sprayed with a chemical which kept the geese away.

Councilmember Myers asked if any city staff volunteer for the fire department or rescue units.

DesJarden responded there appears to be no interest. DesJarden preferred it this way. Because when there was a need to respond, an employee would have to leave the job site.

Councilmember Myers appreciated the staff being present to answer these questions.

Councilmember Green questioned the 99 miles Tom Hartman drives to work. DesJarden stated he lives near Hart, Michigan. It was added that he has not been tardy once.

The Lowell Ledger-Wednesday, September 23, 1998-Page 10 Lowell one of seven West Michigan Schools honored by SchoolMatch

By Thaddeus J. Kraus Lowell Ledger Editor

Lowell was one of seven West Michigan school districts recognized for meeting the needs of families they serve.

They were among 67 districts statewide to earn honors in the seventh annual SchoolMatch awards program. There are 536 school systems in Michigan.

SchoolMatch, an independent, nationwide service, helps corporate employee families find schools that match the needs of their children. It maintains information on every public school system throughout the nation and accredited private schools throughout the world.

Schools are required by law to report the information obtained. SchoolMatch vice president Bill Mason said the Columbus, Ohio-based consulting firm attains the information from the State Board of Education, national accreditation By Amy Briggs agencies, national testing agencies (ACT, SAT and PSAT). state auditors office and state service agencies.

"None of the information is acquired directly from the schools," Mason said. "We're an independent organization. There is no stake in it for us."

The award is based on the ability of school districts to meet the needs and desires of both parents and students. To this end, SchoolMatch has compiled over 56,000 questionnaires of parents and corporations relocating to specific areas to reveal that they most often look for school systems that are:

1. Competitive in academic test scores; 2. Accredited schools;

3. Schools recognized for excellence by a national foundation or by the U.S. Department of Education;

4. Competitive teacher salaries; 5. Above average systems in instructional expenditures; 6. Above average in expenditures for library/media services;

Electronic services may play role in township's escalating use of Englehardt Library

Contributing Writer

Did you know that residents of Lowell Charter Township borrowed over 32,000 items from the Englehardt Branch of the Kent District Library in 1997?

Claudya Muller, director of the Kent District Library, was present at the township's regular board meeting Sept. 21 to report on the escalating success of the local library system. "The Englehardt Branch in Lowell has seen a 120 percent increase in library usage since it became a district library 1995," Muller explained. "Because of this, we received increased budget for books, materials, and staffing." Perhaps the library's popularity is linked to the adde electronic services that have recently been implemented at the Englehardt Branch. Options include the "Talking Book program with choices for readers with sensory impairment online magazines, and a computerized reference question service.

The success of the library has not gone unnoticed. Jar Aronson, manager of the Englehardt Branch, noted that th library's summer program "experienced its biggest y ever." In addition, Muller remarked that Michigan stat legislation has designated a half-million dollars to further thei magazine services online.

"I appreciate the online services," relayed board membe Herbert Vander Bilt. "It's been a fast and convenient resource for me.'

Muller acknowledged that local libraries are considering lengthening their hours to accommodate the growing needs of communities. "People need what we're offering." Muller said. "The whole network really works."

Kent County Board of County Commissioners looks for student representatives

By Amy Briggs Contributing Writer

Calling all 11th graders! The Kent County Board of County Commissioners is nnouncing its 1999 Student Representative program. This eleven-year-old program was created to "allow stu dents to have hands-on participation in local governmen and...[to give] local government officials a chance to hear he 'youth-view' on imporint issues," according to hairman Patrick Malone

The program was introduced to the Lowell Charter Township Board at their regu lar meeting Sept. 21. The board offered a receptive reponse to the student partici ation program. "Two students would

7. Small class size. If a school system misses by one percentile in any of the seven areas, it is not recognized, according to Mason. "On 14 percent of the school systems nationally meet the criteria The SchoolMatch vice president adds this doesn't inter to imply that the 14 percent recognized are the best, "I states that they meet the criteria of what parents want in publ commission, our regular board, or our recreatio board," explained township clerk Carol Wells. "It's an election-application process handled by the commissioners and the individual

Township supervisor hn Timpson declared inter student involvement the various township good to have a local studen 'oice," he remarked. "If we ad a student from a surround ng community, that would so be beneficial."

Students interested in par cipating in the 1999 Studen Representative program an ncouraged to contact school fficials or the Board County Commissioners Grand Rapids at 336-4270.

Friday's football game could not end soon enough.... for one Lowell coach

By Thaddeus J. Kraus Lowell Ledger Editor

Lowell football coach Noel Dean exclaimed to his son Kanon following Friday night's 28-14 win, "We got the monsters from the forest."

To the three year old, that meant Daddy's team had won the football game and there were some hugs and kisses to give out.

Not all post-game father-son chats were wrapped in such elation Friday night.

For Rob McCormick, a football coach at Lowell High School for 18 years, the post-game chat with his son was bittersweet.

"It was a most difficult evening." McCormick said. "I'm glad I won't have to go through this again.'

The Lowell coach sat with his wife, Nancy, somewhere amongst the thousands of Central fans, rooting on the Rangers' senior runningback....his son Ryan McCormick.

Who do you root for?

For many, that meant Lowell or Forest Hills Central. For Nancy McCormick, that also meant son or husband. She is a huge fan of both, but on this night, "Nancy sided with her son," McCormick said.

"The game wasn't about us," McCormick said. "It's about the kids on the field."

One of the kids, however, was #20 and the name on the back of the green jersey read McCormick which took it beyond the field of play.

So all can understand why dad, too, sided with Ryan on his 35-yard touchdown reception right before half or when he was there to console Ryan afterwards. "Ryan was upset and hurt," McCormick explained. "I am disappointed for Ryan and his friends . They work hard at football. Just like the boys do at Lowell. I am also elated for the Lowell football team."

The Lowell assistant came down from the stands following the game. After a meeting with Ryan, he congratulated Dean.

"As coach Dean said after Lowell beat East Grand Rapids last year, winning or losing to Central doesn't make or break Lowell's season, but it is a step forward.' As Friday proved, it can tug at and break a few hearts. Red and White empathy

"Rob is my friend. Our families are friends. He has been good to my family,' Dean said.

The week leading up to the game and Friday night was unique.

Dean related it to his first three years of coaching when he had to coach against his youngest brother.

In preparation for Central, McCormick's boy didn't have a name. He was number 20.

"In a unique situation... that is the way you have to look at it," Dean said.

Red Arrow JV defeats Rangers

Donned in their new home jerseys, Lowell junior varsity football team defeated Forest Hills Central 22-0 Thursday. The Red Arrows did all of their scoring in the first half. Josh Brown connected with Nate Borth for a 20-yard touchdown pass. Kurt Tellman rushed for two touchdowns with his second coming with the assist of downfield blocking by Corey Perdaris.

The Red Arrows' "bend but don't break" defense gave up yardage but not any points.

Nazarene Church celebrates 75 years with its ultimate sustainer

By Thaddeus J. Kraus Lowell Ledger Editor

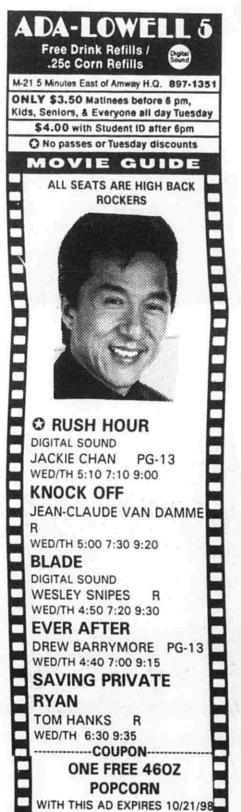

The curtain rose on the Lowell Church of the Nazarene in December of 1923.

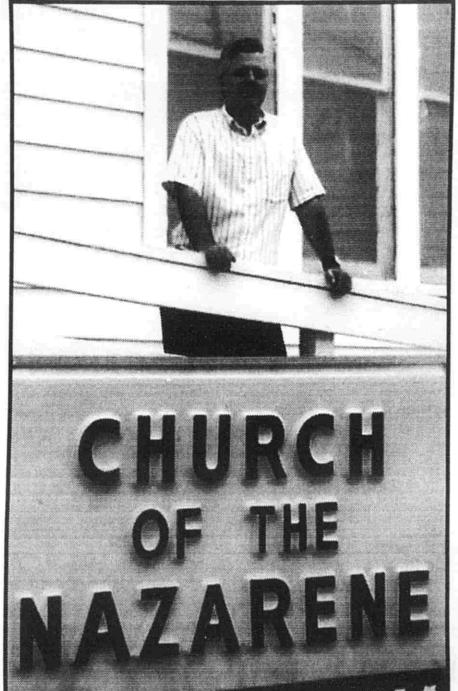

Three-quarters of a century later, 201 N. Washington has been the home of the church for the past 55 years. It wasn't always. In the beginning, things were a bit more unsettled.

Initially, Sunday afternoon services were started by Myron Dawson, an area United Brethren pastor. The services for its 11 members were held in the Baptist Church building on Main Street.

When the Baptists decided to reopen. Nazarene services were moved into another building on Main Street which later became a SUMMER SCHOOL HELPS MANY STUDENTS If you happened past Cherry Creek Elementary or Lowell Middle School during July or August you may have wondered what all the activity was about. Lowell Area Schools offered eleven elementary and middle school summer classes in which approximately 200 children participated. Classes offered ranged from astronomy to drama; "Blood, Guts, and Bones" to Camp Read-A-Lot.

Each class offered cool stuff to do and provided an exciting way to spend those hot summer days!

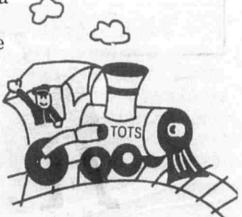

and Math classes to approximately 30 students. They were able to take advantage of this summer "catch-up" program to get back on track for their

By all reports these programs were successful and Lowell Schools will look at providing more exciting and academically-focused classes next

EARLY CHILDHOOD PROGRAM GRANTED

FUNDING BY LOWELL COMMUNITY FUND Lowell Area Schools received a grant for the next two school years from the Lowell Community Fund to provide programs for families with children 0-5 years of age in order to promote school readiness. Kathy Cole has been contracted by the school

The Tots on Track for School (TOTS) program will be activities, and a help-link to families searching out community

If you are a parent of an infant, a toddler, or a preschooler up to 5 years old, and have not registered to be part of the TOTS contact program, please call Kathy. She will send you program information and future newsletters. There is no charge for family participation in TOTS. Won't you help us reach our goal of having 100% of families with preschoolers in the Lowell area registered through our exciting and helpful program? Be sure to watch for the TOTS train logo in future Directions articles!

EAT HEALTHY. YOUR KIDS ARE WATCHING 1-800-2-EAT-WELL

"Kids are heavily influenced by what they see their parents do. A healthier kid is a happier kid, and studies prove eating habits can make a difference in school. So give your child an advantage for life by promoting healthy eating habits at home today." FREE OR REDUCED MEALS

The United States Department of Agriculture supplies schools every year with guidelines for determining who qualifies for free or reduced priced meals. Any student receiving free or reduced priced meals must apply every year. If you have any questions, please call Caroll Harper in the Food Service Department at 897-4443.

ASBESTOS MANAGEMENT

Lowell Area Schools has implemented an asbestos management plan that was approved by the Michigan Department of Public Health on July 31, 1989. This plan details the response actions that the district has taken regarding asbestos-containing materials found in our schools. The plan is available for inspection at the Administration Office during normal business hours.

Lowell Area Schools is committed to providing our students and staff the safest and best environment possible. We are confident that the proper management of asbestoscontaining building materials will protect human health and the environment. Our asbestos program coordinator is Larry Mikulski. Please contact him at 897-9353 if you have any concerns regarding asbestos.
