Students' race to destination ends in death

•••• Likeable
Lowell seniors make bad choice.

By Thaddeus J. Kraus Lowell Ledger Editor

Lowell High School secretary Marcia Ebling asked Luke Swanson if he was sure he needed to leave Lowell High School Friday morning.

The 18-year-old senior "told me he had a wonderful appointment," Ebling recalled following the tragic news that Swanson and his close friend Chris Cunningham were killed in an accident at the intersection of 52nd Street and Morse Lake Road shortly after their departure from Lowell High School.

"They were your typical life is wonderful, confident 18 year olds," Ebling said. "They were never belligerent or terrible. Luke and Chris were very likable."

Swanson and Cunningham, upon their departure from school, were enroute to a friend's (Bob Bessey) house where they were to meet up with Bessey, Scott Parker, Luke Kimberlin and Pete Armstrong who had also decided to cut class on this getaway Friday.

While the routes used to get to Bessy's house were different, tragically the two paths crossed before reaching their destination.

Kent County Sheriff's Department and medical personnel were called to the scene of Friday morning's fatal car crash involving Lowell High School students Luke Swanson and Chris Cunningham. Friend Scott Parker, who was driving the car in the foreground, sustained serious injuries and was transported to Spectrum Hospital.

"They were skipping school. They were on different routes, but were trying to beat each other to the destination," said Lowell High School principal Scott Vashaw.

The car driven by Swanson was westbound on 52nd St. Parker, alone, was southbound on Morse Lake Road where there is no ston sign for thru-traffic.

Swanson, however, failed to stop for the 52nd St. stop sign. The vehicle was broadsided by the car driven by Parker.

Upon impact, Swanson's car was shoved off the road where it became airborne and then rolled before coming to a stop on its top some 200 feet later.

Seconds after the collision, a car driven by Bessey with passengers Kimberlin and Armstong came onto the scene. Bessey had been following behind Swanson, but lagged behind after Swanson passed a car driven by Bob Pitt.

"They (Swanson and Cunningham) were behind us and then passed us on a double yellow," said Ruth Pitt who was a passenger in her husband's vehicle. 'We were too far behind to see the accident, but we heard the collision. It's terrible, but it seems to happen quite a bit at this intersection. Maybe a flashing yellow light is needed."

Bob Pitt stopped his car to phone for help. "I could see the cars from where I stopped. I knew it was bad. I went and called 911; by that time people had gathered. I couldn't come down to the scene of the accident."

Both Swanson and Cunningham were pronounced dead at the scene. Parker was transported to Spectrum hospital for treatment of injuries.

Kent County Sheriff's Department deputy Patty Seif said the accident remains under investigation. "There are a lot of rumors out there, some of which have been reported on. These were all friends. It is hard enough on them and their families without rumors."

The accident occurred at approximately 10 a.m.; announcement of the tragedy came at approximately 12:50 at the high school. It was made by Vashaw.

At the request of students, Lowell High School principal Scott Vashaw had

"We want to inform you about a very serious and tragic accident which occurred about two hours ago. Two of our senior students - Luke Swanson and Chris Cunningham were killed in a car accident south of town. Scott Parker was also involved in the accident and was transported to a local hospital. Our thoughts and prayers are with their families."

The announcement left many in tears and searching out for friends. Others were by themselves trying to find meaning.

High school teachers received a memo about the fatal accident 10 minutes prior to the announcement.

Paws With A Cause needs foster puppy homes

If you have room in your heart, raising a Foster Puppy can be the most rewarding experience you and your family will ever know. Paws With

Charlotte's Web

A Cause® is looking for individuals or families to adopt a foster puppy and help PAWS® meet the rapidly increasing demand for Assistance Dogs. Home raised puppies grow up to be confident dogs, ready to begin their important work--helping people with disabilities lead independent lives.

The objective of the PAWS Foster Puppy Program is to provide a regular supply of quality dogs for training as Assistance Dogs. Puppies selected for this program are from sound stock. By providing excellent care, these puppies could develop into good, healthy, sound dogs. A puppy raised in home conditions benefits considerably as compared to a puppy raised in a kennel situation. When the puppies reach 14-18 months of age, the dogs are returned to PAWS for evaluation and to begin their intense training as Assistance Dogs.

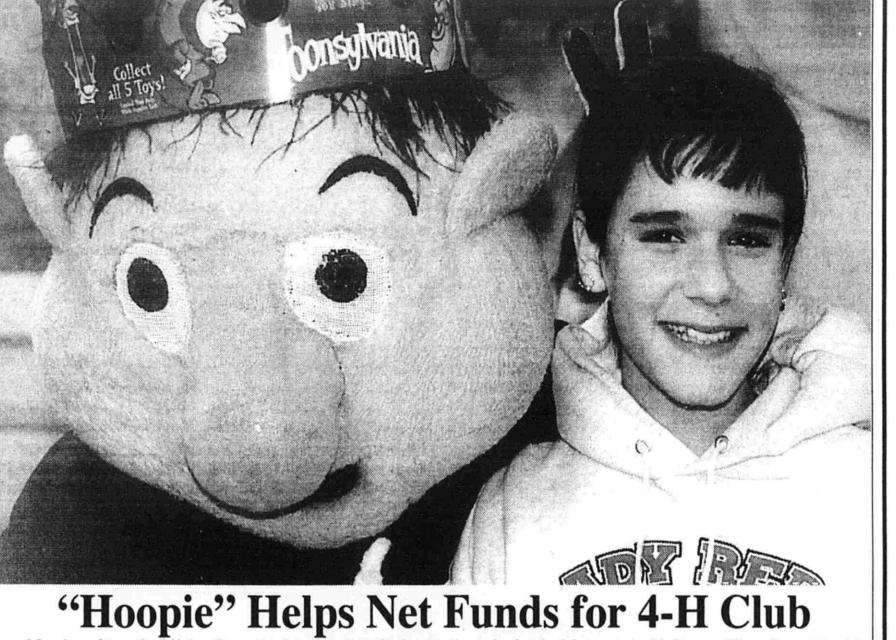

Host Raisers are required to spend quality time with their Foster Puppy. The Foster Puppy is expected to interact with its Raisers during play, work, general care and socialization. Raisers are encouraged to expose their puppy to people and public places. Routine vet services, puppy obedience classes, and the general welfare of the puppy are the responsibility of the Foster Puppy Raiser. PAWS requires Raisers to attend a series of Foster Puppy Classes that guide Raisers during their participation in the program.

Paws With A Cause is a national not-for-profit community-based organization with its National Headquarters in Moline, MI. Paws With A Cause trains Assistance Dogs nationally for people with disabilities and provides lifetime team support which encourages independence. PAWS promotes awareness through educa-

Members from the Life's a Stage Performing Arts Club coordinated a fundraising event with Burger King, Grand Rapids Hoops, Grand Rapids Rampage and 96.1 WVTI Radio on Feb. 4.

Twenty percent of the Burger King sales during the four-hour event were donated to the club's educational account. Along with regular Burger King menu items, the club members sold candy bars and raffle tickets. The club members kept tables clean, washed windows and swept the floors in between playing games and dancing with Radio personality Trace from 196 and Hoopie from the Grand Rapids Hoops.

Proceeds ($260) from this event will be used to support the educational opportunities in 4H. In June, eligible members will be attending the 4H Exploration Days held on the MSU Campus in Lansing. Pictured above with "Hoopie" is Saranac's Aubrey Jerve.

COLLEGE NEWS

Aquinas College has announced that the following students have been named to the dean's list for the fall 1999 semester: Alison Kissinger (senior), John Wojciakowski (sophomore) and Heather Young (senior), all Lowell High School graduates.

From Saranac High School is Amy O'Boyle (sophomore) and from Catholic Central High School is Christopher Hekman (freshman), both from Lowell.

To earn dean's list honors, students must achieve a grade point average of 3.5 or higher while carrying at least 12 hours of graded credit. For the fall semester, a total of 284 students were named to the list.

Grand Valley State University announced the names of students who were placed on the dean's list for the fall Included on the list from Lowell were: Corrine M. Arnett, Margaret V. Cahoon, Amanda S. Foley, Jennifer E. Gahan, Susan L. MacDonald, Shirl L. Oracz, Shelly K. Porter, Sandra L. Skiffington, Jennifer R. Spoor and Debra A. Wieland.

The list from Alto included: Bradley D. Allen, Dana M Houseman, Julie M. Scheid, Paul A. Syswerda and Stephanie M. Worcester.

The American inventor, Alexander Graham Bell. wrote for the National Geographic magazine as H.W. Largelamb, which is an anagram of his name.

Lowell has three businesses where you can rent video tapes and there is another scheduled to open soon. You can get stores... I lost track at seven. Fast food vendors... we have three now, with another on the way. I can count at least five places different shop every day of the week.

Yes, we are truly blessed with certain businesses in our little town. However, there is one big gaping hole in our retail community. I have to go to the mall for my underwear... and socks, pants, shirts, shoes, etc. If there were words to describe ruin your whole day. how much I hate going to "the mall", or driving on 28th St., then there might be words to describe how much I miss Pfaller's Clothing and Shoes. Pfaller's was a wonderful store! They had all the great name brands. Levi, Lee, Hagar, Van Heusen, Hanes, Woolrich, Jantzen, etc. were some of the clothing lines. Shoes and boots came from Dexter, Nike, Redwing, Adidas and a host of other good manufacturers. I know, my closet was full of those names. Now, three years after the store closed, the ranks of shirts, pants and shoes in my closet are getting mighty thin. Not to mention out of style.

deep vein thrombosis (blood clots), local trauma or injury and prolonged standing. Advancing age also increases the incidence of developing varicose veins.

The most common superficial vein problem is the spider vein. These are red or purple bursts that appear on the surface of the skin. True varicose veins form bluish ropes behind the knees or on the calves and thighs. These ropy veins can swell and cause pain, burning or stinging. Symptoms are usually worse in warm weather, with prolonged standing, during menstrual periods and pregnancy, and with hormone treatment. Varicose veins may cause night cramps, restless legs, leg swelling and ulceration of the skin.

Treatment depends on the severity of the varicose veins. Varicose veins may resolve without treatment following pregnancy. Elastic support stockings relieve symptoms, conceal veins, and prevent deterioration, but do not cure the disease. Stockings should be worn continuously while the individual is upright. The last class of my old professor's life had only one student. I was that The strong introduction, The Curriculum, is the inspiring hook that draws the reader into the book. From here the story goes into reminiscences of Albom's description of the day of his graduation from college and the important part that Morrie Schwartz played in his life.

There is a strong sensitivity from the author. Albom, the strong journalist sports writer, lays aside all of that and becomes the tender and watchful, helpful friend.

While quietly reading one evening, I gasped and felt myself engulfed in tears as I read Morrie's words: "As long as we can love each other, and remember the feeling of love we had, we can die without ever really going away. All the love you created is still there. All the memories are still there. You live on--in the hearts of everyone you have touched and nurtured while you were here." Morrie's last sentence to Mitch that day was: "Death ends a life...not a relationship."

P.I.E. searching for host families

Foreign high school students are scheduled to arrive very soon for academic program homestays, and the sponsoring organization needs a few more local host families.

According to Pacific Intercultural Exchange (P.I.E.) executive director, John Doty, the students are all between the ages of 15 and 18 years, are English-speaking, have their own spending money, carry accident and health insurance, and are anxious to share their cultural experiences with their new American families. P.I.E. currently has programs to match almost every family's needs, ranging in length from a semes-Tabitha May, Cassandra Burke, Katelyn Bush, Kelsey ter to a full academic year, where the students attend local high

P.I.E. area representatives match students with host families by finding common interests and lifestyles through an informal in-home meeting. Prospective host families are able to review student applications and select the perfect match. As there are no "typical" host families, P.I.E. can fit a student into just about any situation, whether it be a single parent, a childless couple, a retired couple or a large family

Families who host for P.I.E. are also eligible to claim a $50 per month charitable contribution deduction on their itemized tax returns for each month they host a sponsored student.

For the upcoming programs, P.I.E. has students from Spain, Germany, Poland, Russia, Finland, Argentina, Brazil Colombia, Paraguay, Australia, Sweden, Yugoslavia, China, Belgium, Ghana and many other countries.

Lowell area families interested in learning more about student exchange or arranging for a meeting with a community representative may call P.I.E., toll-free, at 1-800-631-1818. The agency also has travel/study program opportunities available for American high school students as well as possibilities for community volunteers to assist and work with area host families, students and schools.

Lowell wrestling coach questions his call in one-point loss to Goodrich

By Thaddeus J. Kraus Lowell Ledger Editor

Dave Strejc, instinctively, did what was right, when he pulled Caleb O'Boyle out of the championship match of the Goodrich Invitational

Upon reflection of his club's 37-36 loss to Goodrich. Strejc confessed he made a coaching mistake.

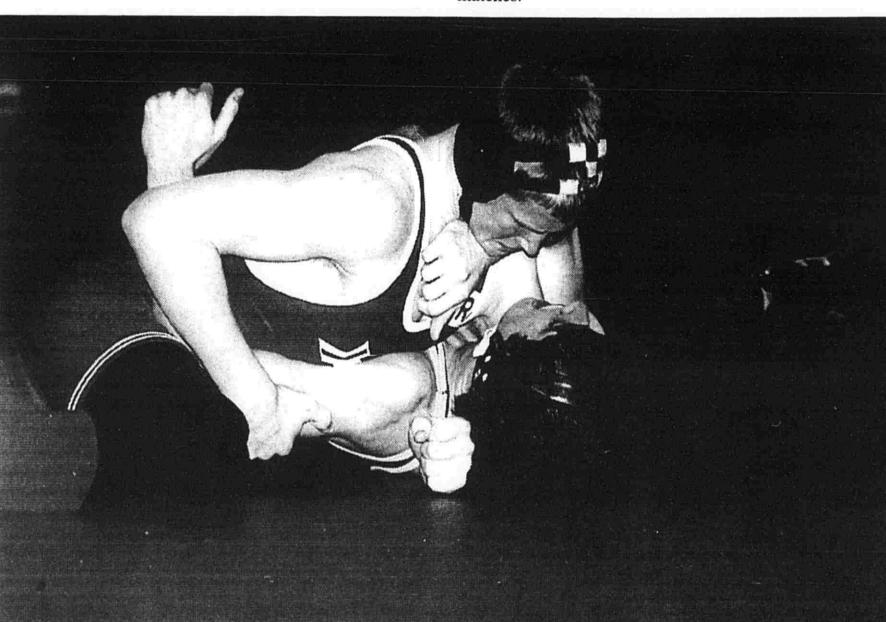

By removing O'Boyle and voiding the 130-pound weight class, it allowed Goodrich to pick up 12 instead of nine points at the 130 and 135 pound weight classes.

"I should have penciled in Caleb at 130, and had him take an injury default after the match started. That would have forced Goodrich to keep their super stud (Ryan Tripp) at 130 and allowed Brent Lyons to wrestle their 135 pounder - who I don't think could have pinned Lyons," Strejc said.

As it was, Goodrich scored six points for the forfeit at 130 and six more via Tripp's second period pin against Lyons. Lyons loss to Tripp was only his second loss in the last 20 matches.

Lowell's Doug Ford showed his Pioneer counterpart to the mat in the Red Arrows' 74-3 win over East Grand Rapids.

Afterwards, both players and parents were pleased Streic put the concern of a wrestler before a meet.

> "Their comments were refreshing," Strejc said. "O'Boyle's teammates didn't want Caleb to take a loss if he didn't have to. They knew losing by one point really didn't matter."

The Lowell coach believes the loss will increase his club's hunger to do well and make them work harder.

"The real season begins on Wednesday (Feb. 17). I know our kids are going to be healthy and ready," Strejc explains. Along with O'Boyle, Lowell entered into the match against Goodrich without its 189-pounder Caleb Grummett. "His shoulder is recovering nicely," Strejc said. Grummett hasn't wrestled in a while, but Strejc knows he's important to the post season. "A rusty Caleb is better than no Caleb at all," Strejc said.

The Red Arrows opened a 12-4 advantage after three matches against the Martians. The lead was built on pins by John McKay (103 pounds) and Denny Snuffer (119). Goodrich sandwiched Lowell's void at 130 with pins against Dan Rottier (125) and Lyons (135). Trailing 22-12, Tom Oesch decisioned R.J. Waugle 6-2, cutting the deficit to 22-15. T.J. Forward (145) got Lowell to within one as he won in an injury default against Cory McDonald. Goodrich answered with a pin against Matt Oesch at 152 pounds and an 8-5 decision against Luke Seitz at 160. Steve VanLaan (171) posted an 8-2 decision against John Steel, closing Goodrich's gap to 31-24. Kris Berta's pin over Ben Fleet iced the match for Goodrich. Down 37-24, Lowell's Bill Stouffer (215) won via forfeit and heavyweight Mike Arnswald pinned Joe Eddy in the first period "We all know Mike has one move, but now he's going in and wrestling, pushing and moving his opponent around," Strejc explains. "This allows him to hit the headlock in many ways. Mike's hit a good form and that makes him a force to be reckoned with." Leading up to its match against Goodrich, Lowell defeated Richmond 52-19, Swartz Creek 47-24, St. Mary's Orchard Lake 78-6, and Fowlerville 62-20.

LAAC exhibit 'Upp-lifting' retrospective on Michigan's images

•••• Jan Upp's sneak preview of her Michigan millennium exhibit can be previewed through Feb. 28 at the Lowell Area Arts Council Gallery.

By Thaddeus J. Kraus Lowell Ledger Editor

Celebrating Michigan in the millennium with one unique image for each of the 366 days for the year 2000.

That was the idea conceived by Jenison watercolorist Jan Upp back in 1997.

Upp wants each of Michigan's 83 counties to be depicted in at least one painting through images uniquely their own.

Upp, with her husband Don, has traveled to 58 Michigan counties since starting the project. This leaves 25 to visit before the year

Selected portions of her work will be taken from her complete exhibit and highlighted in 12 major exhibits throughout the state.

"It's both what Michigan has been and what it is heading in the millennium," Upp said. "It's a way to bring Michigan to the Michiganders who haven't or can't see the rest of the state."

Most counties are requiring more than one trip. Some pictures Upp does on location, the rest, photos were taken and the picture was composed in Upp's studio.

"I hope the images and pictures give people a better appreciation of the state itself," Upp said. "I personally have learned so much."

Watercolor is the only medium she's worked with over the last 10-15 years. "I just like the way it handles. I know what it does," Upp explains.

In her travels throughout the state, the watercolorist has recorded such images as a frog working its way onto a lily pad in Ottawa County. She has taken note of footprints in the snow at Hagar Park in Ottawa County and has reminisced back to the days of tinker toys, erector sets and Matchbox cars in Stevensville (Berrien County) at an antique toy exhibit sale.

These and other images can be viewed in a sneak preview at the Lowell Area Arts Council Gallery through the end of February.

Upp got her idea from a magazine she was reading on a plane trip back from Europe. There was a man from Footprints in the Snow - Hagar Park.

Great Britain who was contracting with businesses to do paintings of their buildings.

The first exhibit will be held at the Lansing Art Gallery from Jan. 4 through Feb. 6 in the year 2000.

One exhibit is planned for the Lowell Area Arts Council Gallery in June of 2000. Paintings will also be on display at the Franciscan Life Process Center during the month of June.

Litehouse works to reveal what caused spike in BOD levels

By J.N. Boorsma Contributing Writer

If he were to pinpoint what caused the excess wastewater in their waste stream to the sanitary sewer, a representative from Litehouse, Inc. said he suspects it was improper practices. Paul R. Kusche, representing Litehouse at the Monday night Lowell City Council meeting, said they are trying to learn what drove "the spike" in the increase Biochemical Oxygen Demand (BOD) levels in the river.

The company is currently working to assure such levels are never reached again. "The Jan. 12 and 19 readings were 2,900 and 3,900 milligrams per liter," Kusche said to the council. The levels reported in January were considerably lower than previous readings, which had gone higher than 10,000.

Kusche gave credit to the reduction of BOD levels because of weekly meetings at the plant to go over basic procedures which need to be followed. This includes insuring that the starch lines are cleaned out at the conclusion of each product run; barreling off excess at the fillers or utilization for a filter bag; scraping down the tanks and totes completely at the conclusion of each flavor; flushing the tetra to a tank rather than the floor; and utilizing excess fiber barrel supply to drum off and haul to the landfill.

The company also has solicited for professional help. It expects the results of a study from MDE Engineering, based out of Chicago, in six to eight weeks. The proposal will take a look at what is going on in the waste stream and who Litehouse is contributing to it, Kusche said. The study is expected to run about $18,000.

The company is also looking at waste stream filtering, which would be an estimated cost of $40,000 to $50,000. The Canadian company, B.B. Engineering, has also completed its recommendations on BioReactors, which at this time Litehouse has decided to put aside, Kusche said.

The council's concern was that the city would be kept abreast of how things went. City manager David Pasquale said Litehouse has been providing weekly updates. The company hopes to present the MDE Engineering proposal to the city by the middle of April, at which time the council plans to further discuss the issue.

Vergennes private drive raises safety and efficiency issues

By Thaddeus J. Kraus Lowell Ledger Editor

A request for a private road is not unusual, but when 60-70 feet is all that separates it from an existing private drive, efficiency and safety become issues.

Carolyn McKay has proposed a private road on the west side of the southwest corner of Fallasburg Park Dr. for a nine acre, single family lot development.

In reviewing the proposal, Vergennes Township Planthat paralleling roads could be avoided if the two sides would share a drive.

"It makes sense to have just one road if at all possible," said planning commission chairman Rick Gillett. "Maintenance and upkeep cost could be shared; it's better for safety and more efficient."

Site location for the four lots is a determining factor in the Kent County Road Commission's decision on issuing road location permits.

The proposed location of the private drive is on a rolling portion of Fallasburg Park Drive, which raises safety is-cial considerations to ponder. The cost to upgrade an existing private road is more cost effective than putting in a new one.

could be combined with a fork in the private road to separate the two developments. The McKay development would have on-site septics and wells. The proposed 16-foot-wide drive would be 2,276 feet in length.

The Vergennes Township Planning Commission said it would like the option of sharing one road pursued further. ·
