Student Boom...Building

By Thaddeus J. Kraus

When the demographic task force was first charged with assessing the ability of the Lowell Area Schools to respond to growth facing the area, the remarks were if and when additional desk space would be needed.

Three years later, the comments have changed to how the district should plan on providing additional space and how much is needed.

The most compelling reason for the change is in this .

year's building enrollments. With the exception of the high school, the student enrollment at each of the other buildings has exceeded capacity.

The report presented to the district indicates all buildings in the district will surpass their functional capacity by school year 2002-2003. That is based on a study completed by John Wallace of DPM Design Group.

That report projects student enrollment in Lowell will rise to 4,102 in 2003-2004.

Stanfred Consultants, a longtime provider of enrollment estimations for Lowell Schools and many other schools in Michigan, projects a high, a suggested and most likely enrollment total.

project," Seese said. "A major event could be a 300-plus unit mobile home park, a 200-plus housing development or a sizable factory supplying a substantial increase in local employment."

From the facts, estimations and projections provided by the demographics growth committee to the facilities and programs committee, three feasible options were created to address increasing student population.

"To the extent possible, the designs aim to use

"The options for managing student population growth are not an all-or-nothing matter. The school board may elect to use a combination of temporary and long-term solutions."

The three basic options, in dealing with growth, presented to the district were:

some of which add capacity, some which do not," Dernocoeur explained.

2. Expanding facility capacity by adding on to existing facilities. The report indicates it is not realistic to add on to many of the existing buildings. "Both Bushnell and the middle school have design features which preclude sensible additions," Dernocoeur said.

Decision on pool vote 'wading' for clarification of municipality veto power

By Thaddeus J. Kraus Lowell Ledger Editor

For some, the proposed recreational district represents a threat of unwanted future projects.

Others see it as a way to create a mechanism for future political cooperative effort.

Whatever view one may take, it is clear that it may represent a threat to a Lowell future which includes a community pool.

"If a community pool is the primary purpose, then other stuff (recreational district) just clouds the issue," said Lowell Charter Township trustee Herb Vanderbilt.

While the recreational district is the proposed vehicle for creating a pool, Lowell city manager Dave Pasquale explained that it doesn't have to deal with anything else.

"It puts into place a mechanism whereby it might create other projects in the future, but it doesn't have to," Pasquale said. Any future project would take a unanimous vote of all participating governmental units.

It's time for the governmental units to put the pool on a ballot and let the people vote on it. It's time we quit walking around the same circle and let the four jurisdictions vote on it together.

Mike Blough Lowell City Councilman

Lowell Charter Township supervisor John Timpson said everyone could get a lot of rest if the Community Pool Statute was the vehicle used to finance the project.

Using the statute would require an affirmative vote of every citizen in every municipality of the district. It would create a situation whereby people who have no ties or interest in what takes place in Lowell would be asked to vote.

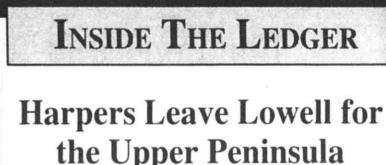

According to Justin Michael, an appointed representative to the pool committee from Vergennes Township, the 1995 community pool statute requires that the municipality cross counties and that the smaller of the two represent at least 15 percent of the municipality. "The counties would be Kent and Ionia; however, Ionia does not represent 15 percent of the school district." explained Michael.

There is a contingent of people who would like the vote on a pool set up where the vote within a municipality could veto the entire project. Under this arrangement, if voters in the city, Lowell Township and the school dis-

LAAC winter play falls back to October

After 22 years of winter community theater performances, the Lowell Area Arts Council has moved their annual winter play to the fall.

A play steering committee has been gathering information since the curtain closed on "Blithe Spirit" in February. In May, the LAAC board of directors decided that the annual play would best meet the objectives of the new LAAC Strategic Plan by moving to a fall 1999 date.

Three key LAAC strategic plan objectives will be addressed in the play process: 1. Increasing the use, understanding, and the enjoyment of the performing arts in the daily life of local citizens. 2. Continuing to provide the community with quality Countess Vilma, the ruthless performances in a joint the-

3. Effectively utilizing volunteers and local talent to produce a community production.

The election supported what Hopkins already believed were the district's strengths

There are several theories to the origin of bedwetting, but the cause is not completely understood. Bedwetting is thought to occur due to a delay in functional maturing of the central nervous system. When the bladder is full, it does not sense the fullness and the message is not relayed to the brain to control the bladder muscles.

Children of parents with a history of bedwetting are known to be at risk for bedwetting. There is a gene marker that has been found in families with bedwetting.

With this in mind, three models were created so that existing facilities could be used to their best degree.

Model #1 calls for a new middle school which would house seventh-, eighth- and ninth-grade students. Cherry Creek would be a second thru fourth-grade building. The current middle school would Pete Gustafson said there is some question as to whether it can legally be done. The pool committee has placed that question before Lansing attorney Patrick Berardo.

Lowell superintendent Bert Bleke said he believes it's more an issue of common sense and the principle of cooperation and working together. "I think there are some viewed changes made in the eople who don't want the pool issue to come to a vote," he explained.

Michael said he believes the Marbury vs. Madison decision will not allow that. "The decision in Marbury vs. Madison came after the Revolution. Basically, it said once you decide to be a neighbor and work together, you cannot secede," Michael said. The pool committee has project for three years. "We can keep finding a reason to notch the subject into another hole, and if we're going to do that, there is no sense to continue," said pool committee member, Gil Wise.

Lowell city councilman Mike Blough agreed. "It's time for the governmental units to put the pool on a ballot and let the people vote on it," he said. "It's time we quit walking around the same circle and let the four jurisdictions vote on it together."

Vergennes Township attorney Jim Dousema reagreements to the Recreational District and Community Pool Addendum to the Recreational District.

New projector system to advance Lowell's performing arts facility

Lowell Area Schools is excited to announce the ability to install a video projector system in the Performing Arts Center at Lowell High School. Through a grant from the Lowell Area Community Fund/Grand Rapids Foundation, the long awaited equipment will be installed starting the last week of June.

Center coordinator, Richard Graham, said, "This will be a huge advancement for visual presentations at our facility." The equipment will allow VHS, S-VHS, Hi-8, DVD, and LaserDisk programs to be projected in an extremely professional manner. "We will have the added capability to use computer imaging from the stage or control room," said Graham.

Using the facility's 20 by 20 foot screen, the high resolution projector will fill it with a bright, consistent image using all of the input devices listed above. Graham added, "We also will be having two slide projectors installed as part of the projection system.

Originally a slide to video unit was included but it was less expensive to have the slide projectors installed with the added advantage of a much higher picture resolution.

Another part of the installation will include a document camera which will replace any applications for an overhead projector. All of the equipment can be activated from the control room or by a 'touch screen' portable remote that will be functional from anywhere in the performing arts center.

"We have been talking about this project for 4 1/2 years now and it's very satisfying to see it close to completion,' Graham said, adding that "without the Lowell Area Community Fund, this project would be years away."

Sharing Cultures

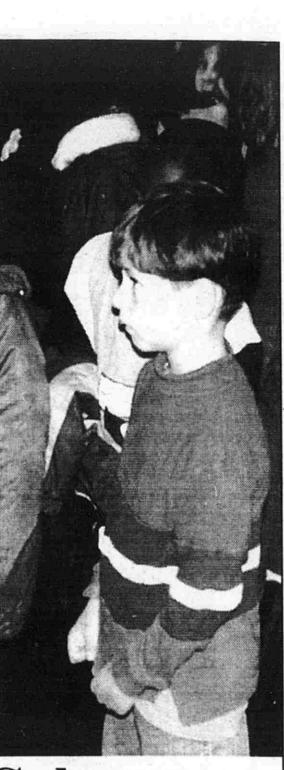

In an effort to create cultural understanding and remove any preconceived fears, Cherry Creek Elementary first-grade teacher Lani Rice and Grand Rapids' Alexander Elementary second-grade teacher Nancy Misner created a program in which their classrooms could work and learn ogether.

Misner's class visited Rice's prior to the end of the school year. The visit included a stop at the farm of Tom Oesch at 13042 84th St, Alto "What we have found over the two years is that fear of cultures comes from a lack of understanding," Misner said. "The other thing is, it's not the children who are afraid. They grab one another's hands as if they have nown one another forever."

Rice's class went to Alexander Elementary in February. Together, the two classes visited the Grand Rapids Children's Museum.

They created a banner titled "Reaching Our Dream" as well as their own big books on respect and responsibility and how to get along. "Throughout the year these kids write back and forth to one another," Misner explained. "The program has been so cool and we've received a lot of support from Lowell superintendent Bert Bleke. We will continue the program - for sure."

That was 27 years ago The Harpers have lived in the same house in Lowell, at 13318 Beckwith Dr., for the past 23 years.

During that same period of time. Tom has served as an eighth-grade math teacher for the Lowell School District, the assistant high school wrestling coach for 15 years, and the middle school wrestling coach for 12 years.

For the past nine years, Caroll has served as the director of food service for Lowell Area Schools. In each of those nine years, the food service program has operated in the black; and has enjoyed in-

Shall the increase in the Township of Grattan tax rate limitation, currently .9828 mill ($.9828 per $1,000 of taxable value), be renewed and levied in the years 1999-2003, both inclusive, and shall an additional .0172 mill ($.0172 per $1,000 of taxable value) be levied to restore previous millage reductions under the "Headlee Amendment" since this millage was last approved, resulting in the levy of 1.0 mill ($1.00 per $1,000 of taxable value), subject to reduction as provided by law, on taxable property in the Township?

The purpose of this levy is to provide fire protection within the Township, including the operation of the Township Fire Department, and the acquisition and maintenance of fire and rescue vehicles and apparatus and real property and improvements used for fire protection purposes. It is estimated that a levy of 1.0 mill would provide revenue of $86,086 in the first calendar year, of which $1,481 would result from the additional 0172 mill.

Shall the Township of Grattan tax rate limitation be increased by .5 mill ($.50 per $1,000 of taxable value), and shall said increase be levied on taxable property in the Township for the years 1999-2003, both inclusive?

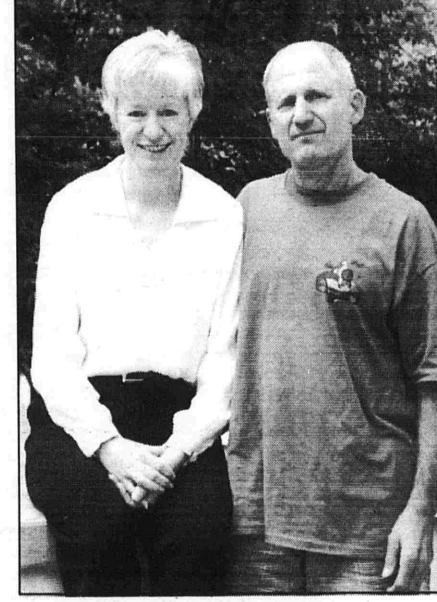

The purpose of this levy is solely to acquire fire and rescue vehicles, apparatus and equipment used for fire department purposes. It is estimated that this levy would provide revenue of $43,043 in the first calendar year.

Voting shall take place at the following polling location: Grattan Township Hall 12050 Old Belding Road, NE, Belding, MI 48809

The following is the statement of the Kent County Treasurer, given as provided by Act 62 of the Public Acts of Michigan of 1933, as amended:

Holcomb said the recent rate adjustment and the Michigan Public Power Agency (MPPA) capacity credits received have driven the revenues up. These capacity credits will add approximately $ 120,000 to the income.

Holcomb noted there are additional expenses for Light and Power above last year. He indicated his concerns with the distribution transformers and the age of the system. He indicated Light and Power had been subsidizing labor to the Cable TV and has also contributed to the need for a rate adjustment.

Director of Cable TV Services Tom Richards stated the cost of programming has increased considerably. He noted there have also been other additions to the system causing the increase to subscribers.

Councilmember Blough stated the report mentions the Cable TV and Light and Power are switching to a new accounting system from FERC (Federal Energy Regulatory Commission). He also said because of the new management for Light and Power and the reorganization of the Cable Television management, it is difficult to compare last year's with this year's budget.

Holcomb stated a consulting firm was hired to work with Light & Power on the rate adjustment to ensure the allocation process made sense. Blough said he did not have a problem spending a consulting fee of $3,000 as long as benefits were received from the firm.

Blough had not seen an explanation yet as to how the previous Cable TV Board and organization would be utilized. Holcomb responded a memo had been given to members of the Cable Board. Mayor Thompson added the minutes indicate the Board would be serving as an advisory committee.

Blough guestioned what the committee would provide to the City. He noted the advisory committee was in place for this certain purpose and questioned if federal law there is a federal law, which requires a community input budget

Myers stated as being a member of the former Cable TV Board for four to five years, efforts were made to make the committee active. He said there was difficulty finding volunteers and then trying to organize a meeting.

Myers strongly objected to some of the information provided in the packet. He stated the board viewed their focus of activity as being a service to the community and providing a service of value for subscribers. Myers noted this is a non profit organization which returns the value of programming

Myers added in previous years, revenue had reached $700,000 with a profit of $75,000. He also noted the premium stations, which were given to the subscribers at no charge. Myers recognized this cuts down on revenue, but noted the subscribers are the owners of the Lowell Cable TV. Myers also stated it was unfair to compare Lowell Cable with a company such as TCI

Myers questioned when Richards joined the organization. Richards responded in April of 1998. He asked

Myers read a guote from the report of April 19, 1999, which stated "the physical condition of the Cable TV is "abysmal" meaning unfathomable, bottomless pit, profound void. He was shocked to hear this is the condition

Holcomb stated it was a two fold situation. One being incremental rate increases of the wholesale costs coming over the last few years should have been implemented sooner. Such operational costs should have accounting process. been covered.

Holcomb did not believe the Cable TV Board was fully aware or given the proper information regarding the subsidizing by Light and Power for labor. He stated during the first three months of his employment, there were many times when one of the linemen was carrying out cable work everyday. Holcomb was only trying to say let's match costs with revenues and not ask other electric rate payers to subsidize cable subscribers or the other

At the same time he presented the Board with option rate increases. This was provided because he could not, in good conscience. recommend a budget, which had a net income deficit. In order to offset this deficit the increase of $2.00 per basic subscriber was the amount to bring Cable to the break even point. At the time, it was a decision of the Board not to approve or recommend a rate increase, but rather to hold off until a later date and take funds from the reserve.

> Myers read another quote, which stated "we are currently unable to provide pay per view programming". He questioned if there had ever been a strong demand for pay per programming.

> Myers recalled several discussions concerning upgrading the system with fiber optics, to provide two way communication methods, not just one way transmission. Once the point of two way communication had been reached, many other options would be available with the Cable including internet service and reading utilities through the system.

> Myers did believe it made sense to consolidate the cable from a labor stand point. However, he would not support the idea of totally abandoning the ideas and the very basis of how Ivan Blough had established this business. Myers would strongly continue to not support this type of direction.

> Holcomb did not believe this was happening. He is trying to place the cable on a foundation so capital funds are available for upgrades and technologies and to build an appropriate reserve fund.

Holcomb commended those who have served on the Board and particularly Ivan Blough for placing the program together and having a vision. He stated very few cities have their own cable and we should be proud. Holcomb believed it was his duty to put forth his best efforts to ensure that Lowell continues to have its own required this body. Councilmember Myers responded Cable. He noted a third party has been hired to review the > Blough clarified that the Cable TV Department was not entirely built by Ivan Blough, but also by Dr. Orval McKay, King Doyle and the previous Lowell Light and Power Board. He mentioned there have been many residents of the community who have served on the boards.

> Blough stated the Council appreciates the efforts of Holcomb and the current Cable TV and Light and Power Boards. He realized they are trying to place it on firm ground for the next millennium toward service. Blough mentioned there are some "hard hitting" issues, which have been highlighted, and it is much appreciated. He stated it would take some difficult decision making and discussion to deal with some of the expenditures.

> Blough thought there was already a restricted fund of approximately $300,000 in the utility. Holcomb responded he did not have an actual dollar figure. However, in reviewing the last three to four years, he had found the $300,000 figure was based on percentage of revenue which was appropriate for electrical utility companies. He mentioned replacing equipment is extremely expensive. Holcomb noted even if an insurance company pays for the replacement, it could be several months before reimbursement

> Richards added there is also a system upgrade fund of approximately $170,000. He indicated the amount should actually be doubled in case of a tornado or flood causing the need for immediate cash to correct the issue.

> Blough mentioned there could be a shortage of funds when new management had arrived along with the acquiring of the new accounting software. He guestioned if the department knew the impact and the change of the

> Holcomb stated the accounting process had no impact However, the labor subsidies and the increased cost of programming were real. He could stand 100% behind the costs and behind the allocation about 98%. Holcomb added this is why he had hired a third party to review the situation

Thompson stated there have been discussions in the past as to whether or not Lowell Cable should be sold After much discussion it was determined this was a service the City wanted to keep. Thompson noted it was Holcomb stated last year there was a request to review good to have new management coming and providing a the rate structure of the cable due to a projected net new point of view. Pasquale delivers first state of city address

Lowell Ledger Editor

It wasn't quite the Oval Office and it wasn't made with the same delivery as that "Man from Hope," but it did accomplish its objectives.

Lowell city manager Dave Pasquale delivered his first State of the City address at Monday night's Lowell City Council meeting.

It touched on challenges and goals facing the city along with the growth it has inherited over the years.

For the past six years, the city has averaged 78 building permits per year providing an investment of almost $18 million to the community. Additionally, the city's taxable property value has risen from 67.8 million dollars in 1994 to 82.2 million dollars this year or a 21 percent increase in six years.

"Growth can easily be seen on the West Main Street commercial corridor, numerous homes and improvement projects and several industrial upgradings over these past years," Pasquale added.

With growth, come challenges that come with it. "There will be new demands for infrastructure, particularly streets and utilities. Finding revenues for necessary improvements will be a formidable task," Pasquale said. "Further, state revenue sharing for roads has not been at the levels necessary to meet growth demands."

Pasquale went on to mention the challenge in restoration and renovation of the downtown's historical buildings and the need for additional space at City Hall and the police station.

"With greater demands for more park and recreation facilities, the city must find cooperative means with the schools as well as Lowell Charter and Vergennes townships to meet the growth," Pasquale said.

Goals for the coming year are:

· Initiating bonding for Downtown Development Authority improvement projects totalling $1.3 million.

 Continuing to support the Downtown Historic District Commission's efforts to preserve and upgrade downtown buildings.

Providing a street and sidewalk master plan.

 Seeking cooperation with Lowell Area Schools and Lowell Charter and Vergennes townships to construct a new $6.9 million community swimming facility.

"While the projects have been mentioned in our goals, the city must never forget its service to its citizens," Pasquale concluded.
