Becky and James Bosserd will deliver nearly 1,000 pumpkins to the Fallasburg Fall Festival this weekend. The two Lowell High School students began growing pumpkins in May.

Pumpkins, Anyone?

•••• Fallasburg Fall Festival patrons will have plenty of opportunity to pick up a pumpkin over this weekend. James and Becky Bosserd made sure of that as they harvested close to 1,000 pumpkins for this year's festival.

By Thaddeus J. Kraus Lowell Ledger Editor

Growing pumpkins is nothing new to Lowell High School students James and Becky Bosserd.

What is new for the young entrepreneurs is cashing in on their hard work.

In the past, the Bosserd siblings have grown approximately 200 pumpkins and then dispersed them out to friends. With their mother (Jane) acting as a liaison, her children proposed to the Lowell Area Arts Council that they grow pumpkins for this year's 31st annual Fallasburg Fall Festival at a discounted rate so as to free money in the children's area budget for other uses.

The children's area will feature face, rock and pumpkin painting.

The LAAC paid $400 last year for 800-1000 pumpkins.

amount of pumpkins for its festival, plus deliver them to Fallasburg Park, all for $200.

"Because the art council counts on profits from the festival to help fund its annual operations, it jumped at the chance to save a bit of money," said arts council spokesman Gary Eldridge.

As all first-year entrepreneurs, Bosserd did experience some setbacks.

The LAAC requested that the pumpkins be cantaloupe size.

"Some of ours got too big," James Bosserd said. Fear not, the Bosserds' Uncle Dave and Aunt Pam, also pumpkin harvesters, filled in where their nephew and niece came up short.

Vergennes Twp. rejects pool; open to future talks on recreational opportunities

By Thaddeus J. Kraus Lowell Ledger Editor

Acknowledging the results from the survey it took, the Vergennes Township board unanimously rejected the community pool proposal.

In a separate vote, the board then voted 3-2 not to participate in a recreational district as it pertains to a community pool, but said it would entertain further discussion on other recreational opportunities.

Vergennes Township supervisor Tim Wittenbach and board trustee Susan Geiger-Hessler voted no on the second motion.

Township clerk Mari Stone, treasurer Jeanne Hoffman and trustee Mark Weber voted in favor of it.

The township sent out a two-question survey to its registered voters; 59 percent responded convincingly that they did not want their property taxes increased to pay for a community pool.

"The survey was done to find out what our voters thought," Stone explained.

Wittenbach said the board's decision was for Vergennes Township.

"Once each board gives its okay, then it becomes a vote of the entire school district," said Wittenbach.

Vergennes Township resident Justin Michael noted that voting to become part of the recreational district authority does not mean the township loses its set of rights.

The contract has terms that would allow the township to discontinue before it ever got to a vote. "Before it goes to a vote of the district we (township) can say time out, the game is over," Township, cont'd. pg. 8

School district and associations reach tentative agreements

August.

I think both sides bargained in good faith and showed a willingness to compromise. It was a good process and I think the result is also good.

> Bert Bleke Lowell Area Schools Superintendent

The Lowell Area School District announced that it has come to a tentative one-year contract agreement with five school associations.

Terms of the agreements were not disclosed since the contract has not yet been ratified.

Connie Gillette, Lowell assistant superintendent for finance and personnel, said the board of education will be asked to ratify the agreements at the October board meeting.

Agreements were reached with the support staff (custodians, secretaries and paraprofessionals), mechanics, bus drivers, teachers, and the central office support staff.

Gillette said a recommendation will also be made for the administration. The support staff and teachers union are represented by the Kent County Education Association. Preliminary bargaining began last spring. Tentative agreements were reached with the mechanics and bus drivers in

Lowell Charter Township rejects park improvement bids

•••• Bids received on the park improvements were either without bonds or above the officially proposed budget allotment.

Jeffrey Redmond Contributing Writer

Lowell Charter Township Board has rejected all bids by area developers for improvements to Grand River Riverfront Park. Four bids were submitted to the board in recent weeks.

Scheduled improvements to the park included a new roadway and clearings, as well as other repairs to facilities along the nature trail. Lowell Township was awarded a grant by the state of Michigan Department of Natural Resources to finance the improvements.

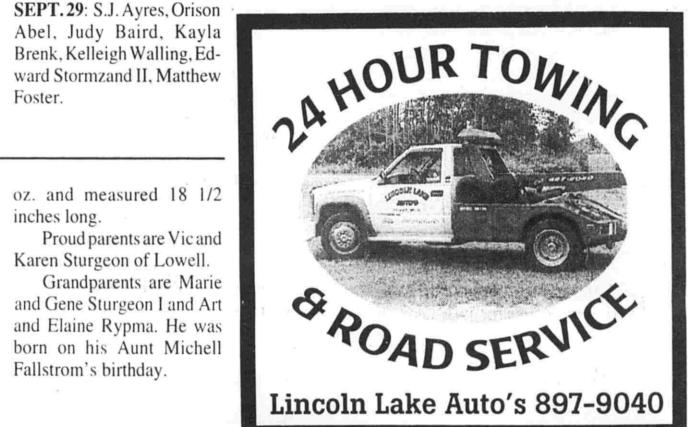

The four companies, Dykema, Mosher, Risner and Shaler, each submitted bids according to township requests. The bids. however, were either without bonds or above the officially proposed budget allotment.

"I have to accept the lowest bidder and continue to do what is best for the township," said township supervisor John Dykema's bid of $198,297 was too high; Mosher's bid of $170,184 was without a bonding; Risner's bid of $93,444 was also without bonding; and Shaler's bid of $128,763 was over the budget. The township was to be allotted $113,510 for the park improvements costs.

The board will try again to receive and accept bids, and expects that proper bondings will accompany the submissions at the same time. All four rejected bidders were notified in writing by Supervisor Timpson.

"I will use my own judgment - especially if it saves the township money," he added.

SEASONAL AFFECTIVE DISORDER

Seasonal Affective Disorder (SAD) is a form of depression that seems to be influenced by the seasons. The most common time for SAD to manifest is during the winter months. It usually begins in late fall or early winter and tends to dissipate by spring. Experts believe that this form of depression is actually related to the darkness and lack of sunlight in the SAD is more common than you might think. It is estimated to affect four to six of every 100 people. An additional 10 to 20 percent may have a mild form of SAD. SAD is about four times more common in women than in men. It is seemingly more Six persons are injured in automobile accidents in Lowell common the farther north one lives. (It is seven times more common in Washington than in Florida.)

> Some signs and symptoms which may herald the onset of SAD include:

- · weight gain
- a drop in energy level
- a tendency to oversleep
- difficulty concentrating irritability
- avoidance of social situations

Since it is believed that SAD is influenced by decreased sunlight and darkness, a theory has been established that "light therapy" may be good treatment for SAD of the winter months Light therapy is used for about 30 minutes each day throughout fall and winter, and can be arranged by your family doctor. If light therapy does not work, medication may be prescribed to treat the depression associated with SAD.

LEGAL EASE

DEAR JONATHAN: I tried recently to open a bank account for my mother pursuant to a durable power of attorney that she executed a few years ago naming me as her agent. However, the bank refused to honor the document until the person who notarized it placed her seal on it.

Fortunately, I was able to track down the notary and have her put the seal on the document and as a result, I was able to open up a bank account. Was the bank right in requiring this?

JONATHAN SAYS: No. First of all, although it is recommended that a person who executes a durable power of attorney executes it in front of two witnesses and a notary public, there is no requirement that this document either be witnessed or notarized to make it valid. Even so, however, in my practice, I always have a client's execution of a durable power of attorney witnessed and notarized in the event they ever want to record the document with the register of deeds and for the further purpose of defusing any potential challenges later on that the individual lacked legal capacity at the time the document was executed.

Since there is no requirement in Michigan that the execution of a durable power of attorney be notarized, there can be no requirement that a notary seal be placed on the document.

Even if a notary signature was required, there would be no further requirement that the notary place his or her seal on the document to make it valid. However, if your mother had executed the durable power of attorney outside the state of Michigan and wanted to record that power of attorney with the register of deeds office in the county in Michigan in which she lives, then in that case the out of state notary who notarized the document would be required to place his or her seal on the document in order to have it recorded.

DEAR JONATHAN: I want to set up a limited liability company. Can I do this on my own, or do I need another person to form the limited liability company?

JONATHAN SAYS: Under the original Michigan Limited Liability Company Act, a limited liability company could not be formed unless you had at least two members. However, this provision has been changed pursuant to the 1997 amendments made to the Act. Now, only one member is required to form a limited liability company, thus allowing for single member limited liability companies.

DEAR JONATHAN: How do I motivate my husband to engage in the estate planning process? I did get him to prepare a basic will that was put together the day before we left for our vacation last winter. It wasn't very well thought out and I do not think it is sufficient. Any suggestions?

JONATHAN SAYS: Many people tend to put off estate planning because it is an unpleasant topic and requires some thoughtful discussion and diligence to implement. What motivates people to engage in estate planning varies from person to person. Some people are motivated when somebody close to them dies and they see firsthand what can happen if the decedent had not done any estate planning prior to death. Others are motivated by knowing that if they don't take charge of their own estate planning, they are basically yielding control to others regarding the planning of their estate and most people don't like this. Since I do not know your husband, I wouldn't know how to begin to answer your question. However, you are better off engaging in the estate planning process at a time other than just before rushing off on vacation somewhere. This way the two of you can participate in this process together without the pressure of time constraints and work toward putting together a well-reasoned, thoughtful and complete estate plan. Good luck.

TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor.

I have recently attended several of the Vergennes Township meetings and get more disturbed with every meeting.

First and foremost, is the dissention among the board members and how they publicly express their displeasure of one another. We have all read the articles and witnessed the turmoil during the recent election. The dispute continues. Unfortunately Vergennes Township is suffering because the board members and planning commission members have allowed their own personality challenges to get in the way of the true issues facing Vergennes Township. Secondly, I find it very disturbing that a planning commission member attended the last meeting simply to read a magazine. Mark Weber's wife brought him and spent the evening reading a romance novel. I found one resident who had been encouraged to attend the meeting because the pool issue was being discussed reading a newspaper. Vergennes Township residents, we need to stand up for ourselves. Attend a meeting or two, observe the people representing us. I believe you will be truly amazed and disgusted at the people representing us and the politics at this level.

Move over, White House - Vergennes Township is here. Marcia Roth

The Lowell Area School District was one of 11 West Michigan districts that made it through a surprise inspection of its bus fleet without a red or yellow tag.

Of those 11 schools, only Forest Hills and Kentwood put a larger fleet of buses on the road each day.

None of Lowell's 47 buses were found to have a defect (e.g., bad windshield wiper) or needed to be taken off the road until repairs were made.

A district van also used to carry students passed the inspection of state police inspector Sharon VanCamp.

"I think the credit has to go to the drivers who turn in bus reports daily and obviously our mechanics who take care of the buses in a timely fashion," said Larry Mikulsi, Lowell Schools transportation director.

Mikulski added that many schools who have as many or more buses on the road also employ more than two mechan-

"I think that says a lot for our two mechanics," Mikulski explains. "They are insuring that Lowell is putting the safest buses possible on the road. That can't be said for all districts." The district employs two mechanics, Duane Hamilton and Leo Bowen. Last year, Lowell received one red tag (a bus that must be taken off the road for repair) and five yellow tags (buses that are usable but need repair). In 1997, Lowell received six yellow tags and no red tags.

Afterwards, while participants are enjoying a pancake breakfast, their canine buddies can enjoy a Hill's Science Diet and some water, sponsored by the Animal Hospital and Pet Complex of Lowell.

For non-race participants, there will be a breakfast charge of $4 for adults and $3 for children ages 10-16.

"It's something different that I don't think has been done before," said Bruce Langlois who along with Brian Doyle is coordinating the event.

CHARACTER/DIVERSITY UPDATE - Bert Bleke reported on the work of the Character/Diversity Committee and also discussed the areas of emphasis for the upcoming year.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT - Bert Bleke thanked the custodial staff for the great job during the summer in preparing the buildings for new school year. He also expressed thanks to the teachers and administrators. There are approximately 70 more students registered this year over last. The school newsletter, "DIRECTIONS", has a new look and will be a direct mail piece to all district residents this year. Bert expressed excitement for all the new program additions this year such as an additional GT position, Spanish at the middle school, elementary math, and debate and forensics at the high school. Bert ove a special thanks to Jim White and the principals for their fine work in this effort.

Item #1. ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS A. 514 N. MONROE - DAVID KLEINPASTE - VARIANCE IN LOT COVERAGE TO ALLOW IN-GROUND SWIM-MING POOL AND PATIO - PUBLIC HEARING. As noted at the last meeting, David Kleinpaste proposed to construct a swimming pool and patio at his residence located at 514 N. Monroe. Within the R-2 district, the 30% lot coverage as a maximum is allowed (Section 7.04).

At their August 23, 1999 meeting, the Planning Commission reviewed the following lot coverage calculations:

4,448.00 s.f. Lot Size 1,758.95 s.f (20.82%) House, porch and garage 2,270.95 s.f. (26.88%) With proposed swimming pool 512 s.f. 5,508.95 s.f. (65.21 %) With pool and patio 3,750 s.f.

Lot coverage is defined as the percentage of the lot occupied by any building or structure, including accessory buildings. In reviewing the proposal, Zoning Administrator Sarah Wieland determined the patio was a structure. Thus, a variance had been requested.

The Planning Commission interpreted a patio is not a structure. Thus, the Commission recommended a variance not be required.

Councilmember Myers verified the lot behind the residence was vacant. David Kleinpaste responded this was correct. Myers asked if he owned the lot. Kleinpaste said no.

Myers questioned if the Planning Commission had any concerns regarding storm water run off because of the proposed amount of cement around the pool. Planning Commissioner Hall responded planting areas would also be installed. He noted the Commission had difficulty determining why a pool and patio would be considered a structure. Hall believed lot coverage should only apply to the house, garage or other structures on the property, which take visual space. The Commission felt if the pool and patio the current basic cable rate from $19.95 to $22.14 per month. In 2000, an increase of 7 1/2 % would bring the rate to $23.81., In 2001, another 7 1/2 % increase would raise the rate to $25.59

Mayor Thompson questioned competitors' rates. Holcomb responded the comparison was relative to the first 11 % rate adjustment. A few issues discussed were the Citizen Advisory Board felt it was attempting to draw some of its attitudes about programming from just the City. In fact, it became a very painful issue that there was over a three year period and stated 50¢ is still the lowest not much feedback coming. It centers on some programming issues which Richards has been designated to resolve. The Board felt if the community, larger than just the physical boundaries and into a portion of the townships, wanted feedback, then it would provide structure to accomplish this. The original format seen in the past four to five years may not be taken. The general ad hoc committee consensus was there needs to be some sort of feedback. However, if the tree was alive, the Council would have the discretion. Mayor Thompson stated the instance when City staff had recommended a tree be removed After a presentation to the Council, it was decided the tree should not be removed and just trimmed. Thompson did not feel the decision should be left to City staff if the tree is healthy. Blough said a live tree was involved and the policy at that time was to ask the Council. He is attempting to proceed one step further and have the policy state if the tree is alive and not a safety issue, then why should it be removed.

Thompson suggested the owner of 605 Birchwood Court present the proposal to the Council for discussion.

DesJarden stated the current policy states if a live tree is involved, it must be presented to the Council. Bids must be received on the tree removal.

It was also suggested the policy on tree removal be reviewed at the next work session meeting.

Linda Tabor stated she submitted a tape to be shown on Lowell Cable TV from one of the recent meetings held. She indicated the title of the meeting had been changed from what was submitted. After she spoke with Tom Richards, she was told the name of the meeting would not be changed back to how it was originally labeled. Tabor felt this was censorship and should not be al- great job. lowed. She asked the City Council if they supported this kind of treatment and questioned why she could not title the session "Cable Rate Increase Meeting". She noted the title of the video was presented as the "Cable TV Ad Hoc Meeting".

Thompson did not agree with the title she had given the meeting because this was not the actual function of the session at that time. He stated the committee was discussing a proposed rate increase study and then would come to the Council for approval.

Tabor felt she had been treated very badly and asked the City Council if they supported this kind of treatment. Thompson did not feel she was mistreated at any meeting she had attended. He commented that if she had a problem with the title given, he would have to hear both sides. He also noted if she was treated in a wrong fashion, it would be corrected.

Deb Pipe of Ruperts Drop (214 E. Main) asked if a crosswalk could be installed and possibly another traffic light on the east end of town. Thompson responded the City had already petitioned the State for a crosswalk. The State said no, stating they believe it would be a safety issue because pedestrians would be walking between traffic and parked cars.

Police Chief Jim Valentine mentioned there would still be two lanes of traffic to cross with the installation of a crosswalk. He believed a stoplight would create a traffic gap and allow for easier crossing. He noted the traffic accidents have decreased on the west side of town because of the new signal.

Pasquale stated the City could petition the State for a traffic study to determine the need for a signal. Pipe asked if a speed study would help. Valentine responded police vehicles have run their radar during high traffic volumes and found the average speed acceptable. The Council decided to petition MDOT for the installation of a traffic light on the east side of Main Street.

Item #8. COUNCIL COMMENTS. Councilmember Shores stated she was pleased with the new joint billing from Lowell Light and Power and Cable TV.

She also stated the Riverwalk Festival was very good and was proud of the City.

Councilmember Blough also commented on the Riverwaik Festival. He felt it was well received and many people from outside the area attended.

Blough also commented on the new logos for Light and Power and Cable TV and stated how attractive these appear on the trucks.

Both Red Arrow players Josh Brown and Dave Bellechasses had big games in Lowell's 51-38 high school football win over Northview Friday night.

Brown's seven touchdowns were easily noticed while Bellechasses' kickoff coverage accomplishments were easily missed by most.

That is the life of a special teams player.

Both Red Arrow players accomplished in one game what many players might not accomplish in a season.

Brown, Lowell's junior quarterback, rushed for 252 yards and scored seven touchdowns.... and let's not forget he was 3of-7 for 61 yards passing.

"A pretty good night," deadpanned Lowell football coach

Bellechasses, a junior special teams player on the kickoff team, made the tackle on the first six Lowell kickoffs following touchdown runs by Brown.

Bellechasses could have gotten an assist following Brown's seventh touchdown run as he was second only to Matt Altoft to reach Northview's kickoff returner.

"Dave is a very hard working kid. We are very proud of him and his effort," Dean said.

The Lowell football coach was also pleased with the way his Red Arrows responded following a tough 21-18 loss to Forest Hills Central a week earlier

"The boys had a great night. They came back from the loss and won a football game," Dean explained. "For the seniors, it is their first OK White win as leaders of the team."

The amount of points scored by the Wildcats may indicate that the game's outcome was in doubt. In fact, it never was. Lowell scored on its first two possessions and never looked back.

Trailing 12-0, Northview scored early in the second quarter to cut Lowell's lead in half at 12-6.

Lowell scored touchdowns on each of its last two possessions of the first half to take a 25-6 halftime lead.

The Red Arrows scored twice more early in the second half to increase its lead to 39-6 with 4:41 to play in the third quarter.

That's when the game took an odd turn.

With Lowell's starters out of the game, Northview's starting offense took the opportunity to inflate its game

Wildcat quarterback Den Stinson, through two-and-ahalf quarters of play, was 4-of-15 for 45 yards, a touchdown and two interceptions.

With Lowell starters on the sideline, Stinson was six-of-10 for 198 yards and four touchdowns.

"I think it shows that our third string needs to play more against our first string in practice," Dean said. "They went out there and played hard. We were trying to eat up the clock and get out of here."

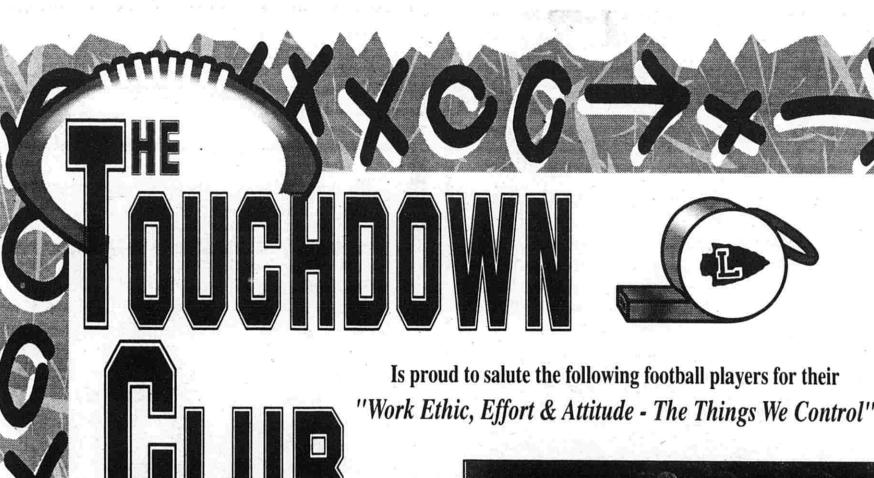

Northview had other ideas. It kept its first string in and aired it out against Lowell's third string.

Northview's first-year coach Scott Robertson defended his decision saying he wanted to teach his players to play hard for 48 minutes.

Brown scored on runs of 36, 62, 3, 3, 12, 10 and 60 yards. The only other Red Arrow to reach paydirt was Kurt Telman, scoring on a 13-yard touchdown run. Telman finshed the game with 80 yards rushing.

Lowell is now 3-1 overall and 1-1 in the OK White. The Red Arrows host Wyoming Park in its homecoming game on

"I'm real happy with the way we're playing defense. We've allowed four goals in our last five games," Barlow explained. During that span, Lowell was 3-1-2.

Lowell 1 Wyoming Park 1

Lowell came out a little sluggish against a much improved Viking soccer team and found itself trailing 1-0 at halftime.

"We made a lot of apassing and trapping mistakes in the first half. That was disappointing," Lowell soccer coach Chris Barlow said. "I thought the boys picked up their play in the second half. We had so many shots that just missed or deflected. It was heart wrenching."

Lowell's only goal of the game came in the second half on a kick by Matt Foster off an assist from Zach Stauffer. The Red Arrows outshot Park 36-16.

Red Arrow goalie Jake Billingsley had 12 saves in the net while Park recorded 19.

"If we continue to play defense like we are, the boys will be in every game," Barlow said. "We've just got to get the ball in the net more."

In a non conference struggle, neither of the two teams ould find the net.

"It was a great high school soccer game. Mona Shores is a tough club. They nearly defeated Grand Haven early in the week, "Lowell soccer coach Chris Barlow said.

The Red Arrow coach was pleased with his club's passir and ability to create scoring opportunities. "We just couldn't put any of them in the net," Barlow explained.

When players who want to learn, want to get better. and want to be competitive, play for a coach who wants it as much or more as they do, good things happen.

That continues to be the trend with the Lowell girls tennis program.

Building on its past success, the Red Arrow girls tennis team added another milestone on Wednesday as it defeated Wyoming Park for the first time in an OK White league match.

to do good work today.

The Township Board has authorized 2 additional future dates for the Zoning Board of Appeals to hear requests for variances applying to Home Occupations and Home Based Businesses with no fee cost. The dates are October 6, 1999 and January 5, Home occupation is a business operated entirely within the home or in an accessory building by the home occupants and there is no outside physical evidence of a business being conducted there. Examples are office type of work, crafts, wood working, sewing, etc. Home based business is a business located at the occupants residence with the phone, bookkeeping and storage of vehicles or equipment but the actual business is done away from the home at other sites. There should also not be any physical evidence of a business being conducted at the residence. Examples are landscaping, cement work, heating and cooling installation, etc. Both home occupations and home based businesses require permits from the township.

A variance might be needed if one or more of the requirements cannot be met that are listed in the ordinance. Some examples of this type of variance would be a sign closer to the road than the ordinance allows, size of sign, or more than the allowed number of employees. Please call me for assistance i you need a permit application for a home business or need a variance application for a home business. Variance applications mus be turned in at least 2 weeks before the meetings to insure publication and mailing

Lowell linksters lose league meets

By Thaddeus J. Kraus Lowell Ledger Editor

Lowell boys golf coach Jack Ogle has seen a lot of good golf shots by Red Arrow opponents over the years.

Last week was no different. Lowell traveled to the par 37 Ironwood course in Wyoming where they witnessed the host, Vikings, card a school-

"We run into quite a bit of this in the OK White," Ogle

Wyoming Park's total easily bettered that of Hastings 171 and Lowell's 179.

Park was led by Jonathan Lyman's 33. Following him home was Eric Wigent (35); Rob Woodman and Kyle Bradley each fired 41s.

Lowell got a team-leading 43 from Wade Gilchrist, and a 45 from kyle Hines and Joe Patterson. Kevin Craig finished

"Kyle is playing some solid golf for us right now." Ogle said. "Our scores are clustered together. We're not that far Tim Cole led Hastings with a 41. Teammates Steve Obreiter and Josh Do fired 42s while Josh Alderson was four shots back at 46.

It wasn't quite as good as Park's 150 a few days earlier, but Central's 153 at the par 35 Rolling Hills golf course was as

Why? Because the Rangers tallied that score and didn't use the scores handed in by their number one and two players. That's called depth, according to Lowell coach Jack Ogle. Central got medalist performances from Andy Yang and Logan Chase. The Rangers shot 37s. Teammates Dan Koernke was two shots back with a 39 and Luke Sadowski finished with a 40.

Wade Gilchrist and Kyle Hines led Lowell with rounds of 42. Eric Ostrander finished with a 43 and Joe Patterson carded Hudsonville's Kevin Tornga, Matt Roberts and Mike Smith led the Eagles with 40s. Jared Hovinga carded a 41. "There are no weak sisters in this league," Ogle explained.

Leadership initiative hones in on communication and organizational effectiveness

Leadership Lowell will offer two series titled "Organizations that Work" and "Communication and 2. Organizational Effectiveness" during the months of October and November.

Thaddeus J. Kraus Lowell Ledger Editor

The second in a series of leadership initiatives will concentrate on organizations that work and communication and organizational effectiveness.

Direction Center (a management resource for nonprofit organizations) and the Lowell Area Community Fund advisory committee will present two separate series tailored to meet specific needs of profit and nonprofit organizations.

The two series will be presented during the months of October and November on Tuesday evenings from 5:30 until 9 p.m.

The workshops were developed from discussion at a community wide meeting last fall with the Lowell Area Community Fund advisory committee and the steering committee for the Lowell Leadership Learning Concept.

Series one titled "Organizations that Work" will offer four sessions:

• Best Practices: Benchmarks for excellence - Oct. 5.

- Capacity Building: Marketing and development Oct.
- Leadership: Board/staff roles and responsibilities Nov.
- Measuring Outcomes: Communication impact Nov.

"This is a way to help the community at a minimum cost to individuals and organizations to improve both profit and nonprofit organizations," said Bert Bleke, a member of the Lowell Community Fund Advisory Committee.

The cost will be $7 per individual per session or $25 per series (four sessions) per organization. The cost for both series is $40 (up to four people) per organization.

Series two is titled "Communication and Organizational Effectiveness." The four sessions are:

- Interpersonal communication and conflict management
 Oct. 12.
- Organizational Communication: Analysis and planning
 Oct. 26.
- Public Relations: Upside and down, inside and out Nov.
- Team Building: Recruiting, training, evaluating and retraining - Nov. 23.

The workshops will be held at Lowell High School.

The Lowell Community Leadership Initiative became a reality because the estate of Harold J. Englehardt, through the Grand Rapids Foundation, left the community of Lowell funding for art and culture, community development, education, environment, and health and social needs.

"It's educational opportunities for the community from the Lowell Area Community Fund," Bleke concluded.

City will fall back on other options if not able to secure property

By Thaddeus J. Kraus Lowell Ledger Editor

The city has stated from the beginning that it did not want acquisition of property for the City Hall/police station project to affect people's lives, buildings or homes.

Having finalized deals on five of the seven properties pertaining to the City Hall and police station project, the city has stuck to its word.

The city is hopeful that it can add two more properties to that list over the next three weeks.

The only two properties which remain are the Audrey Dykstra property at 310 Avery St. and the VFW building and parking lot.

Mayor Bill Thompson and councilman Mike Blough have held discussions with the VFW and made an offer.

Thompson said the city now awaits its response.

The mayor, however made it clear that, whatever

The mayor, however made it clear that whatever the VFW's decision is, he would like to see the city move ahead.

"I would like the city to keep the process moving,"
Thompson said

The mayor added that the project can be completed with the two remaining properties or with just the five already finalized.

"With the growth of the downtown, it is important to keep the City Hall/police station project going," Thompson said.

Without the two remaining properties, it is likely that the City Hall and police station would have to be separate buildings.

"I think we need to do what is most equitable and functional for our needs," councilman Chuck Myers explained.

Blough reminded people that while the city is honed in on the current City Hall/police station depiction, there are other options that maybe the city should review.

Those options include splitting the police station away from City Hall.

As part of its project design plan, Fishbeck, Thompson Carr & Huber provided the city with multiple options.
