The new Lowell High School site a turning point in Grattan gas franchise

Murray, Crooked and Pine Lake residents didn't know it at the time, but when the Lowell School System made the decision to make the Steve Wittenbach property the site of the new high school, it was indirectly a significant step in garnering Grattan Township a gas franchise.

"Learning that we would be servicing Lowell High School was a turning point in the Grattan gas franchise agreement," said Consumers Power marketing consultant,

Robert Horton. "Lowell High School is a significant load which helps to substantiate construction costs for residents in Grattan Township."

The franchise agreement between Consumers Power and Grattan Township was signed by the Township Board on July 13.

Horton said Consumers Power had been contacted by residents on Murray Lake about getting a gas main extension to serve them. Consumers Power then wrote out a proposal for Grattan Township. It started out just for Murray Lake residents, but then grew to include Big Crooked Lake and Pine Lake residents.

Phase I of the three phase project started in August and is expected to be completed by the end of the year. The phase consist of constructing a major network feeder main from southern Vergennes Township, north to Five Mile Road. Lateral gas mains will then be constructed along Four Mile and Five Mile Roads, westerly, encompassing Murray Lake.

The proposed design concept was selected to accommodate the maximum number of Grattan Township customers within the shortest pipeline design and construction timetable.

Phase II is scheduled to commence in the spring of 1993. It will extend the Five Mile Road lateral to Murray Lake Avenue and Gavin Road.

Council sets 3 public hearings for Nov. 16

Public hearings were set for Crystal Flash, McDonald's and for a new sewer ordinance Monday night at the Lowell City Council meeting.

Crystal Flash wishes to install a new pole sign near the intersection of Main and West Street. The 104 foot sign would replace the existing signage of 138 square feet.

The proposal causes the need for two variances.

The new sign exceeds the maximum square footage for pole signs by 54 square feet.

A pole sign is not allowed within a triangle formed between points on the front and side lot lines within 35 feet from the intersection. The new proposed sign would fall within that intersection.

A public hearing was set for Nov. 16.

McDonald's received the approval to install a 3-by-8 foot reader board sign at the zoning board of appeals meeting on Sept. 21. A 10 foot ground clearance is necessary to meet code.

It was thought that the clearance could be achieved. But, the reader board has only eight feet of clearance. Thus, McDonald's has asked for a variance. A public hearing was set for Nov. 16.

The Council received a letter from City Attorney Richard Wendt in regards to back-

Lowell woman left without home following electrical fire

Electrical problems were the cause of a Lowell fire on Oct. 20

Tuesday, Oct. 20 is a day Janice Heyboer will never forget. She was driving back to her home (a trailer in Valley Vista) when her son saw fire trucks parked out in front. He jokingly said, "it's just our trailer Mom, go around the trucks. When they got around the fire trucks both Janice and her son realized it was no longer a joke, his mother's trailer had burned.

"It was an empty feeling. It could have been worse though, it could have been the middle of the night. I don't think I would have ever gotten out," Heyboer explains.

Lowell Fire Chief Frank Martin said the fire began at 5:15 p.m. "The cause of the fire was electrical. There was more smoke and heat damage than fire, however, the trailer was a total loss."

Heyboer was house-sitting for her mother at the time of the fire.

Since losing her home, Heyboer has received tremendous support from her fellow employees at Cumberland Manor and from area businesses.

Shari Ferguson, office manager of Cumberland Retirement Village, said Heyboer is still in need of appliances, linens, kitchen ware, dishes and glasses. Heyboer said the most difficult losses from the fire are the memories in a box that are now gone forever. "The only picture my family had of my brother Jerry, who died at the age of 26, was destroyed. Pictures of my kids were also destroyed," Heyboer says.

Businesses that have made donations include Faro's, Family Fare, Westside Store, Pfalters, Hinkley's, Gary's Meat Market, Erb Lumber, Keiser's, Lowell Waterbeds, Klean Brite, Curtis Cleaners, Backwater Cafe, Lowell Lanes, Westside Deli, and Sam's Auto Service.

Car-deer crashes hit all time high in Michigan

An all-time high of 48,233 car-deer crashes with seven fatalities and 1,732 injuries were reported on state roads last year, a 5 percent increase over 1990.

The 1990 tally was 45,945 crashes in which one person died and 1,957 suffered injuries. In 1989, the previous peak year, there were 46,784 reported crashes with six deaths and 1,857 in injuries.

Car-deer crashes are not strangers to Michigan. There are thousands every year, and they're increasing in number. They happen throughout the year, most occurring during fall and early winter months. Last year, 18,001 were recorded during October and November, 31.6 percent of the yearly total. This year an estimated 760,000 firearm deer hunters are expected to take to the woods between Nov. 15-30, adding to the normal traffic flow and tourist travel.

And, sadly, the car-deer crash story will be repeated. But anyone, not just hunters, can be involved in such accidents.

Ironically, the size of the herd was 1.7 million last year, down from the peak year of 1989 when the herd numbered 2 million strong. This year's deer numbers are projected at 1.75 million.

"Last year was tough," said Jerry Basch, AAA Michigan's Community Safety Services manager, of the seesaw statistics. "The controlling factors are many-food availability, weather, size of herd and, most importantly, traffic volumes."

A look at the southern tiers of counties shows this. There may be fewer deer per square mile than you'd find in the Upper Peninsula, but the number of car-deer crashes is uniformly high because there are more roads and more vehicles on those roads. In short, the fewer number of deer stands a greater chance of being hit.

Last year, the top five counties in the number of car-deer crashes reported were Kent with 1,662; Calhoun, 1,363; Montcalm, 1,239; Jackson, 1,222; and Menominee in the Upper Peninsula, 1,117.

The fewest number of such crashes were recorded in the U.P. counties of Keweenaw with 16; Luce, 132; Houghton, 164; Gogebic, 172; and Alger, 192.

While there is no reasonable way to eliminate all car-deer crashes because of the unpredictability of the animal, AAA Michigan advises motorists to always wear safety belts and heed the following tips:

- Car-deer crashes most often occur on paved local and county roads, although freeway motorists are not exempt.

- The hours just before dawn and just after dusk are the most likely times to have deer move from area to area.

- If you see a deer, drive slowly, and assume that others are nearby.

- If you should approach a deer in the road, do not take unsafe evasive action. It is usually safer to strike the deer than another object, such as a tree or other vehicle.

- Be aware of eyes reflecting from your headlights. Drive at a speed that allows you to brake safely if you spot a deer.

- Should you strike one, report it to local or county police authorities. Also, to your insurance company. Repair bills for car-deer crashes generally average $1,300 per car.

- If you choose to keep a deer you hit, first get a permit from the police department or Department of Natural Resources.

Homespun Devotions

By Pauline Spray

HOMESPUN

And be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God (Romans 12:2).

"Crissy, come here," Mother called. Crissy left her play reluctantly, but upon entering the house, she found ice cream and cookies waiting for her. The child had to surrender her play before she could enjoy the goodies her mother had prepared for her.

True happiness comes with the total commitment of one's self to the whole will of God. When we, Christians, give up our sand pile of selfish desires and accept God's will for our lives, we find He has "something very special" in store for us.

Like Crissy, many Christians cannot see beyond the giving up of the sand pile—the point of surrender—to the blessing to be received as the result of the surrender. They see only the difficulty, the agonizing procedure of giving up self, instead of the peace and joy which they will enjoy after their commitment to the Lord has been made. They hesitate to leave their sand piles of selfish and childish whims. But when they are willing to forsake all and follow Him, they will find their Heavenly Father has "something very special" in store for them.

Prayer: O Lord, help me not to be conformed to this world. Transform me into Thy likeness. My life, I totally commit to Thee. I shall bear my cross "till death shall set me free." Amen.

The consecrated cross I'll bear, Till death shall set me free; And then go home my crown to wear, For there's a crown for me.

"We invite the entire community to experience the unique power and ministry which music can provide," said Roger MacNaughton, Music Director at First Congregational.

Community members plan for school's future

Five years ago members of the Lowell community were asked to step into the future and plan for it as part of the Strategic Planning Committee "Step into the Future" program.

Now five years later, 95 percent of the guidelines laid out, have been accomplished.

Oct. 12 and 13 were identified as "issue isolation days," during which small groups, representing all facets of the Lowell community and school district, discussed the issues that will be facing and affecting the school district over the next five years.

The "issue isolation days" program was used to lay the foundation for the development of the next five year visionary plan of Lowell Area Schools.

Phil Jenkins of Bryn Mawr Associates, Inc. facilitated each small group meeting throughout the two day study of issues facing the community and school district. Representatives of the PTO's, community leaders, community groups, academic and athletic boosters clubs, Neighbors Who Care Committee, 1988 Strategic Planning Committee, district school improvement teams, board members, administrators, chamber of commerce and the general public were asked to participate.

Jenkins will take the information and synthesize it into a report. The final report, which Jenkins will complete by June of 1993, will outline the vision and priorities of the Lowell School District from 1993 through 1997.

After the list is presented in June by Jenkins, the priorities and vision will be prioritized by sub committees and the steering committee.

cozy corner by Roger Brown

I was out making my rounds yesterday when a fellow at the Ford dealership said, "Hey, Roger Brown, I thought of you yesterday. In fact, I had a Roger Brown day yesterday". Curious as to just what might constitute a Roger Brown day, I stuck around for a listen. A lot of thoughts rushed through my mind... most of them bad.

It was right. As the story unraveled, it turned out the poor guy did indeed have a Roger Brown day. He had invited several friends to the Detroit Lions football game. He told me they were all General Motors people. I'm not sure what he meant by that. They could have simply been owners of GM products. They could have worked for GM. They could be selling GM products. I'm not sure of their affiliation with GM, but I was led to believe that their loyalty to GM ranked right up their with the board members.

Of course, my friend the Ford man, drove them to the Silverdome in a shiny new Ford conversion van. The GM folks were duly impressed, but pulled up short of jumping ship to Fords. In fact, I doubt if they even wiped their feet before boarding the new unit. GM people are like that. At least I think they are. I base that on the fact that I'm currently driving a GM product, and I never wipe my feet.

Here's where you have to conjure up a mental picture of Rod Serling at the beginning of a Twilight Zone episode with the theme music in the background going, "doo-doo, doo-doo, doo-doo, etc." Rod would say something like, "Picture a man, driving across the state in a new Ford van on a rainy, windy, cold, dark, dreary day. His journey will take him to watch the Lions lose in a real stinker of a football game to the lowly Packers. In the van are several of the man's so-called friends, every one a GM loyalist. The man doesn't know it, but he has just set out on a trip to the Roger Brown Zone." Doo-doo, doo-doo, doo-doo. (Is that deep doo-doo?)

Our Ford guy is subjected to a lot of light-hearted joking about his vehicle as they motor eastward. As luck would have it, the engine began to over heat. Coolant had leaked out from somewhere. Coolant was added and the Ford man limped his vehicle along until he could find a mechanic on a Sunday. At one stop a mechanic came out to look at things sporting a t-shirt that read, "This is your brain..." which was followed by a Chevy logo. Then it said, "This is your brain on drugs..." which was followed by a Ford logo. Of course this magnified a chorus of hoots and jeers from the GM folks, who were having a high old time at the expense of our poor Ford man.

Well, the problem was finally found to be a leak in the hose going back to the rear heater. The group eventually got to the game, not that they would have missed much if they hadn't. Our Ford man got everyone home safely in that truly nasty weather, and showed up at work on Monday to tell me he'd had a Roger Brown day. I'm not sure how I should take that.

I guess I feel like I've become a Ziggy or Al Bundy. Sure, I write about things like handyman projects that go awry, my out of control dog, problems with just about any mechanical thing I touch, airplane engine failures, auto accidents, injuries, etc. But, that doesn't mean my whole life is like that. I have a few good things happen to me from time to time. In fact, I had planned to write about something good this week. That is, I was going to write about something good until this "Roger Brown day" business came up. Oh-oh, there's that music again, "doo-doo, doo-doo, doo-doo, doo-doo." I'd better end this thing here before my computer crashes.

JUST BROWSING

Not long ago, I was browsing in the young adult section (among others) at Schuler's Book Store. I noticed two young girls chattering quietly with each other while climbing on the little stools to reach treasures of reading that they had discovered. Their activity and excitement was heartwarming.

I wanted to talk to them and so I said, "I think you girls really love to read, right?"

"Oh, yes!" the short, chubby brown eyed one answered. "I'd read all the time, if I could."

"How old are you?" I ask her quiet friend. The tall blond looked at me, smiled warmly and said, "I'm 11 and I hunger to read." I beamed a smile of understanding toward her. Looking at the one with the dancing brown eyes, I questioned, "And you, how old are you?" "I'm nine and a half almost 10," she matter-of-factly answered.

"How would you girls like to show me some of the books that you like to read; some old favorites and some new ones. I review books for children and I have grandchildren who love books just like you do. Would you like to help me?"

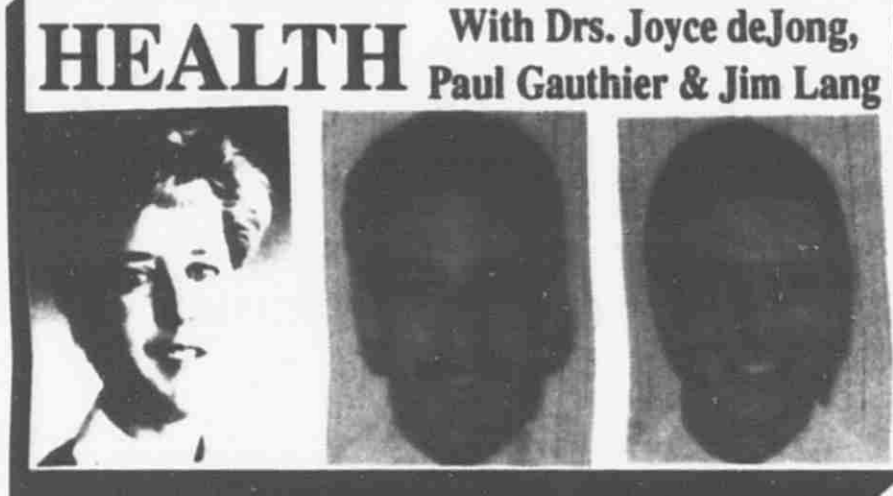

Well, it was off to the races! "Here's a terrific one and look over here. Have you heard about this one?" "Oh, lady, see this one?" (THE TRUMPET OF THE SWAN, by E. B. White) it's our reading assignment and it is the most wonderful book. You must read it." Her quiet manner had changed and her voice had taken on the quiver of excitement as she leafed through the pages for me.

As we went down several aisles, talking about so many books, I notices a scruffy looking brown eyed boy shuffling towards us. Surely those eyes were from the same family. "Whose she?" he asked my brown eyed guide. "Oh, she's a Grandma, and we're helping her find some books for her granddaughter." He looked at me and smiled weakly. I felt accepted. After all, I was a grandma, and they all made me feel that that was a grand thing to be.

In the bookstore that evening, I missed my two granddaughters who live so far away, but for a few minutes, two

ALZHEIMER'S DISEASE

Alzheimer's disease currently affects about four million Americans. Approximately 1/2 of all nursing home beds are occupied by patients with Alzheimer's disease and 100,000 people will die of this condition annually. Alzheimer's disease will affect about 10 percent of senior citizens over the age of 75. Currently, there is no cure for Alzheimer's disease.

The major symptoms of Alzheimer's disease are progressive forgetfulness, social withdrawal, errors in judgement, decreased knowledge of current events, and inability to make simple calculations. Over a period of months to years, the patient's ability to function in activities of daily living deteriorates. Language disturbances often occur leading to rambling speech patterns, loss of ability to express thoughts clearly, and even total lack of speech.

Frequently, patients with Alzheimer's disease will become delusional or paranoid suspecting that family members are attempting to harm them. Terminal Alzheimer patients are unable to recall significant life time events. They become totally confused to time or place. They neglect eating and rapid weight loss can occur. The illness usually lasts five to 10 years, culminating in eventual death.

Alzheimer's disease is due to a gradual loss of neurons in the brain. The brain actually shrinks. Neurons in the brain, which are responsible for thought and memory, are gradually destroyed. We don't know why some people develop Alzheimer's disease while others are completely unaffected.

There is no specific test that can be used to diagnosis Alzheimer's disease and the diagnosis is usually made after ruling out other medical diseases that could possibly cause dementia. A computerized x-ray scan of the brain is frequently ordered to rule out stroke or tumors as a likely cause.

Once the diagnosis of Alzheimer's disease is established the family can care for the Alzheimer's patient at home for as long as possible. The patients environment should be modified and organized so that it is easy to understand. Daily routines need to be established. Families should attend Alzheimer's support groups if they are attempting to care for their loved one at home. Many excellent books are available on caring for family members with dementia.

Business Financial Planning - Sole proprietor's successor

by: Gerald J. O'Bee, CLU, ChFC

Oftentimes, the successful business person started his or her business with an idea. After securing some capital from personal savings, loans from family members or whatever, the long, hard hours began. Fortunately, over the years the successes outweighed the failures, so that now the business generates a decent income to make it all worthwhile. But how long will that income last?

If you are a Sole Proprietor, wisdom suggests that you should be thinking about the inevitable day when you will leave your business, whether sooner or later, whether involuntarily (death or disability) or voluntarily (boredom or retirement). When that day arrives you want to be able to leave it in style, i.e., with a comfortable income for yourself and your heirs. To do this, you have to make the necessary moves now to groom your successor. Normally it takes at least five to seven years to train a successor. With little or no planning, your business could become part of an alarming statistic: approximately one-half of successful businesses are eliminated after the death, disability or retirement of their founders.

Usually, your first choice for a successor will be one of your children. In this case, the children should get other kinds of working experiences elsewhere, then come back to be trained to take over the firm. The whole training process to be effective has to be one of openness and respect.

If appointing a successor becomes a problem, hire a mediator. It may even be a good idea to contract outside executives to help the new successor(s) learn their roles.

Whatever the scenario, drawing up a buy-sell agreement makes sense. The alternative of no planning and no buy-sell agreement can leave the family chaotically scrambling in case of death, disability or retirement.

In family businesses the problem of providing "equality" for all the children is a sticky one. A better goal to strive for may be "fairness". The children working in the business can buy the business through a buy-sell agreement. Other arrangements can be made, especially through life insurance, to be fair to the other children not in the business.

A double tragedy can occur if the Sole Proprietor dies without a will. First, there is the emotional and financial loss of the loved one who was running the business. Second, in the State of Michigan, for example, the courts would

TOWN TALK

Should those over the age of 21 be allowed into high school dances?

Rachael McGrew
 I think it's very realistic for an 18 or 19 year old to be dating a 21 year old. Any teenager can get alcohol. A student should have the right to bring who they want.

Jody Hoffman
 Yes they should be allowed. It's not fair that the school be able to choose who a student brings to a dance.

Jack Ogle
 No. The 21 year old has too easy an access to alcohol. I believe it is just the few who want 21 year olds and older to attend high school dances.

Jamie Martin
 No, they shouldn't. I don't think a person 21 years old or older should be dating high school students.

It is better to know some of the questions than all of the answers.

About 80 percent of the world's diamonds are suitable only for industrial use.

Rosemary Byrne
 Yes. It is not inconceivable that a senior would be dating someone 21 years old or older. If the parent's approve why should the school prohibit.

Sam Roudabush
 No. Only high school students should be allowed in a high school dance. I don't think at that age students want older people there.

Jim DeWeerd
 The school is currently taking a survey of other schools in Kent and Ottawa counties about their policy. From the information that has been received so far, it's been 50-50. It's been a long standing policy that middle school students are not allowed at high school dances. That policy was questioned last year by parents. They asked if 25-26 year olds are not more of a problem than middle school students.

In summary, then, the business is often the greatest asset of a Sole Proprietor. Helping this asset to grow and preserving its value in case of death or disability and at retirement should take priority in all business planning. The future successful successors of any business do not grow on trees. Whether family members or outsiders (i.e., key employees), they have to be selected in advance and groomed for a number of years. Ways to achieve "fairness" among children are possible. A will and an adequately funded buy-sell agreement will go a long way toward seeing to it that you leave your business in style.

Lowell's Lesky qualifies for state; girls 10th, boys 9th

For the fourth consecutive year, Lowell's Sara Lesky qualified for the State meet. This time at the Class B Regional in Haslett Saturday.

By finishing 14th in a time of 21:16, Lesky not only qualified for the state meet but she also was a regional medalist. "Saranac a very good race," Lowell coach Tom Harper said. "It's quite an accomplishment qualifying for the state meet four straight years."

Lowell's coach was also pleased that his club met their goals. "Before the race we stated we wanted to finish in the top 10, and that all of our times be under 24 minutes. We met our goals."

Following Lesky home was teammate Michelle Billingsley. She finished in 64th place in a time of 23:11. Melissa Deeb was 67th, stopping the clock at 23:21. Tricia Raab finished 72nd at 23:41 and Laura Boyink was 80th, coming off the course in 23:59.

Caledonia won the regional with 20 points. The Scots were followed by Cedar Springs 91, Perry 124, Ionia 124, East Grand Rapids 156, Lansing Catholic Central 224, Alma 249, Haslett 254, Fowlerville 270 and Lowell had 297. The Red Arrows were 10th out of 21 teams.

Lesky will run in the individual state meet on Saturday at the Grand Rapids Golf Course at 11:30 p.m.

The Red Arrow boys placed ninth out of 21 teams at the Class B regional in Haslett.

Lowell's Mike Wojciakowski led the way with his best performance of the year. The Lowell senior stopped the clock at 17:47, making him the 30th harrier home.

Caledonia won the regional with 107 points. It narrowly edged Cedar Springs with 110. Belding was third with 147 points. Lowell finished with 290 points.

Lowell's Tom Mull was the second Red Arrow home. He came home in 18:09, good enough for 43rd. Sergio Saldivar was 62nd in a time of 18:30. Freshman Matt Inman was 68th at 18:36, and Eric Shelby was 87th in a time of 19:16.

While not figuring in the scoring Red Arrows Paul Pelon and Sean Saldivar both finished under 20 minutes. Pelon came home in 91st place at a time of 19:28. Saldivar was 99th at 19:35.

Lowell coach Tom Harper said the club goals were reached. "All seven of our runners placed within the top 100, and they all finished in under 20 minutes."

High school cross country coaches are always telling their harriers to look ahead to the runner in front of them.

Lowell coach Tom Harper didn't wait until the O-K White Conference meet started to tell his squad that the club in front of them was Forest Hills Central.

The Red Arrows, finished fourth in the O-K White during the regular season, losing to Zeeland, Sparta, and Forest Hills Central. With their eyes fixed solely on the third-place Rangers, the Red Arrows ran their best team race of the year at the conference meet, easily outdistancing FHC by 19 points.

The race consisted of eight schools and 56 runners. Lowell's top five runners all placed in the top 33.

Zeeland, the class of the league in 1992, was first with 35 points, followed by Sparta 78; Lowell 88; FHC 107; Wyoming Park 120.6; Northview 138; Rogers 152; East Grand Rapids 205.

Wyoming Park's Jeremy Hurley was the meet medalist in a time of 16:53. Zeeland's Brent Miedema was second at 16:54 and teammate, VandeWege was third at 16:58.

Northview's Jeff Parsons

was fourth, stopping the clock at 17:01. Aaron Havenga of Forest Hills Central was fifth in a time of 17:03. Ryan Schrottenboer, Zeeland, was sixth at 17:06 and teammate, Jamie Serne was seventh, coming off the course in 17:08.

Lowell's Tom Mull was eighth at 17:35, which assured Mull of a place on the All-Conference team.

Gary Austin, Sparta, was ninth, in a time of 17:47 and Chris Sheiner, also of Sparta, was 10th in a time of 17:53.

Lowell's Mike Wojciakowski just missed All Conference honors, finishing 11th, in a time of 18:04.

Red Arrow Matt Inman was 16th at a time of 18:29. Sergio Saldivar was 24th, stopping the clock at 18:58. Eric Shelby was 29th in a time of 19:14.

Inman ran a great race for a freshman. I also thought Sergio and Eric ran their best races of the year," Harper said. "We also needed great races from Mull and Wojciakowski to catch Central. Both boys came through."

Lowell finished tied for third overall with the Rangers.

In the O-K White girls' meet at Johnson Park in Grandville, the Rangers from Forest Hills Central won their first league crown.

FHC finished first with 63 points; Zeeland was second with 67; Sparta, third, 74; EGR, fourth, 86; Wyoming Park, fifth, 94; Lowell, sixth, 137; Rogers, seventh, 175; Northview, eighth, 176.

Lowell's Sara Lesky earned All-Conference honors by placing eighth in a time of 21:41.

The Lowell girls placed sixth overall in the O-K White.

Filling out the rest of the Lowell top five were Melissa Deeb, 25th, 23:25; Tricia Raab, 32nd, 24:08; Laura Boyink, 33rd, 24:21; Michelle Billingsley, 39th, 25:12.

Students elect Bush!

That's how the students and staff of Run-ciman/Riverside saw it in their presidential election on Monday, Nov. 2. The election results were reported at an all school assembly, which capped a week of school wide discussion of our political system.

Teachers commented that the youngsters at all grade levels were presidential candidates. The kids really got into the campaigns and seemed to have a great time. Hopefully, this experience will help children understand the importance of being an active part of our political system. Many children said they were going to tell their parents to be sure to vote.

The results from the election were, out of 463 ballots cast: George Bush, 214 or 46 percent; Bill Clinton, 137 or 30 percent and Ross Perot, 112 or 24 percent.

THE TOWNSHIP OF GRATTA ORDAINS:

Section 1. Grant of Gas Franchise and Consent to Laying of Pipes, Etc. Subject to all the terms and conditions mentioned in this ordinance, consent is hereby given to Michigan Consolidated Gas Company, a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Michigan (the "Company"), and to its successors and assigns, to lay, maintain, operate, and use gas pipes, mains, conductors, service pipes, and other necessary equipment in the highways, streets, alleys, and other public places in Sections 6 and 7 of the Township of Grattan, Kent County, Michigan, and a franchise is hereby granted to the Company, its successors and assigns to transact local business in said Sections 6 and 7 of the Township of Grattan, for the purposes of conveying gas into and through and supplying and selling gas in said Sections 6 and 7 of the Township and all other matters incidental thereto.

Section 2. Installation and Extension of System. If the provisions and conditions herein contained are accepted by the Company, as in Section 6 hereof provided, then within not more than one (1) year following the later of the date upon which this ordinance takes effect and the date upon which the Company receives such regulatory approval as may be necessary for the Company to convey gas to Sections 6 and 7 of the Township of Grattan and to construct and operate its facilities therein, the Company shall determine the area within Sections 6 and 7 of the Township of Grattan to be served initially and commence the installation of a gas distribution system within such area, and the Company shall thereafter proceed to complete said initial installation as soon as reasonably practicable; provided, however, that the Company shall not be held responsible for delays due to weather or labor conditions, inability to procure necessary materials, or other causes beyond its control; and provided further that such initial installation and any extensions shall be subject to the Main Extension provisions, the Area Expansion Program provisions (if and where applicable), and other applicable provisions now or from time to time hereafter contained in the Company's Rules and Regulations for Gas Service as filed with the Michigan Public Service Commission or successor agency having similar jurisdiction.

Section 3. Use of Streets and Other Public Places. The Company, its successors and assigns, shall not unnecessarily obstruct the passage of any of the highways, streets, alleys, or other public places within Sections 6 and 7 of said Township and shall within a reasonable time after making an opening or excavation, repair the same and leave it in as good condition as before the opening or excavation was made. The Company, its successors and assigns, shall use due care in exercising the privileges herein contained and shall be liable to said Township for all damages and costs which may be recovered against said Township arising from the default, carelessness, or negligence of the Company or its officers, agents, and servants. No road, street, alley, or highway shall be opened for the laying of trunk lines or lateral mains except upon application to the Highway Commissioner or the Township Board, or other authority having jurisdiction in the premises, stating the nature of the proposed work and the route. Upon receipt of such application, it shall be the duty of the Highway Commissioners or the Township Board, or such other authority as may have jurisdiction, to issue a permit to the Company to do the work proposed.

Section 4. Standards and Conditions of Service; Rules, Regulations and Rates. The Company is now under the jurisdiction of the Michigan Public Service Commission to the extent provided by statute; and the rates to be charged for gas, and the standards and conditions of service and operation hereunder, shall be the same as set forth in the Company's schedule of rules, regulations, and rates as applicable in the several cities, villages, and townships in which the Company is now rendering gas service, or as shall hereafter be validly prescribed for the Township of Grattan, under the orders, rules, and regulations of the Michigan Public Service Commission or other authority having jurisdiction in the premises.

Section 5. Successors and Assigns. The words "Michigan Consolidated Gas Company" and "the Company," wherever used herein, are intended and shall be held and construed to mean and include both Michigan Consolidated Gas Company and its successors and assigns, whether so expressed or not.

Section 6. Effective Date; Term of Franchise Ordinance; Acceptance by Company. This ordinance shall take effect the day following the date of publication thereof, which publication shall be made within thirty (30) days after the date of its adoption, and shall continue in effect for a period of thirty (30) years there after, subject to revocation at the will of the Township at any time during said thirty (30) year period; provided, however, that when this ordinance shall become effective the Township Clerk shall deliver to the Company a certified copy of the ordinance accompanied by written evidence of publication and recording thereof as required by law, and the Company shall, within one hundred eighty (180) days after the date this ordinance takes effect, file with the Township Clerk its written acceptance of the conditions and provisions hereof.

In the case of conflict between this ordinance and any such ordinances or resolutions, this ordinance shall control. Halloween brings out community's characters

The annual Lowell Ledger Halloween Costume contest has come and gone for another year.

While the participation level and fanfare was not as great as in years past, Lowell Ledger editor Thad Kraus, thought the quality of the costumes was as good or better than in year's past.

Last year roughly 30 businesses participated and over 100 employees. This year there were 10 businesses and 73 employees who dressed up for the ghostly occasion.

Kraus said he felt the decline in numbers was largely due to the holiday falling on the weekend.

The winning costume belonged to Pippi's Playhouse owner, Bonnie Grooters.

Since Grooters wasn't sure what it was she was dressed as, we will refer to her as the half and half lady. Grooters decorated half her body in red and the other half in black. Grooters will receive a gift certificate from Pfaller's Clothing and Shoes.

Ginny Gauger of FMB State Savings Bank was second for her portrayal of a 1960's hippy. Gauger will get a gift certificate from Cousins'.

Sherrie Vrooman, Superior Furniture, was bat-like in her batman outfit. For her effort she will get dinner for two at Larkins.

Cindy Addington's (Lowell Family Medical Center) adaptation of a football player earned her a gift certificate at Keiser's.

Jim Reagan D.D.S. spent

Friday extracting blood instead of teeth in his vampire costume. For his effort Reagan will get a free oil, lube and filter from Vennen Chrysler Dodge.

Safari man Tom Kinney, FMB State Savings Bank, won a Thomet Chevrolet jacket.

Tricia Eldridge, FMB State Savings Bank, dressed as Minnie Mouse. Eldridge will receive a gift certificate from Hinkley's.

Superior Furniture's Donna Perdaris was rewarded for her adaptation of a doctor. She will receive a money voucher from FMB toward the opening of a savings account.

Nancy Hull, Lowell Medical Center, won a gift certificate from Lambert's Variety Store, for her Gizmo (Gremlins) outfit.

Halloween, continued

"I wish to thank all businesses and employees who participated again this year in the Halloween costume contest," Kraus said. Prizes may be picked up beginning on Thursday (Nov. 5).

Lowell Red Arrows sting Yellowjackets, 27-16

Friday night was a re-birth of a rivalry that started in the year 1900.

Some 92 years and 53 games later the Red Arrows and Yellowjackets met again. This time at Burch Field.

The result was the same as that first Lowell home game back in October of 1900, the Red Arrows left the field victorious. Then the score read 11-0. Friday night it read 27-16.

"Lowell and Greenville was a great rivalry and nothing happened tonight to prevent that rivalry from continuing," Greenville coach Paul Engel said.

The last time the two teams met was in 1983, Greenville held the upper hand then, 16-8.

However, in the season finale for both clubs Friday night, Lowell fired its "Catlin(g) Gun" 16 times in earning its fourth win of the year to go against five defeats.

Phil Catlin led a balanced Lowell running attack, as he rushed for 111 yards and scored one touchdown.

The Red Arrows came out strong as its offense marched the ball 70 yards in 10 plays with senior Jim Inman taking it in from six yards out, giving Lowell an early 7-0 lead.

"That was a great first drive for us," Lowell coach Phil Christensen said. "However, I think we let up a little bit after that and Greenville came back at us."

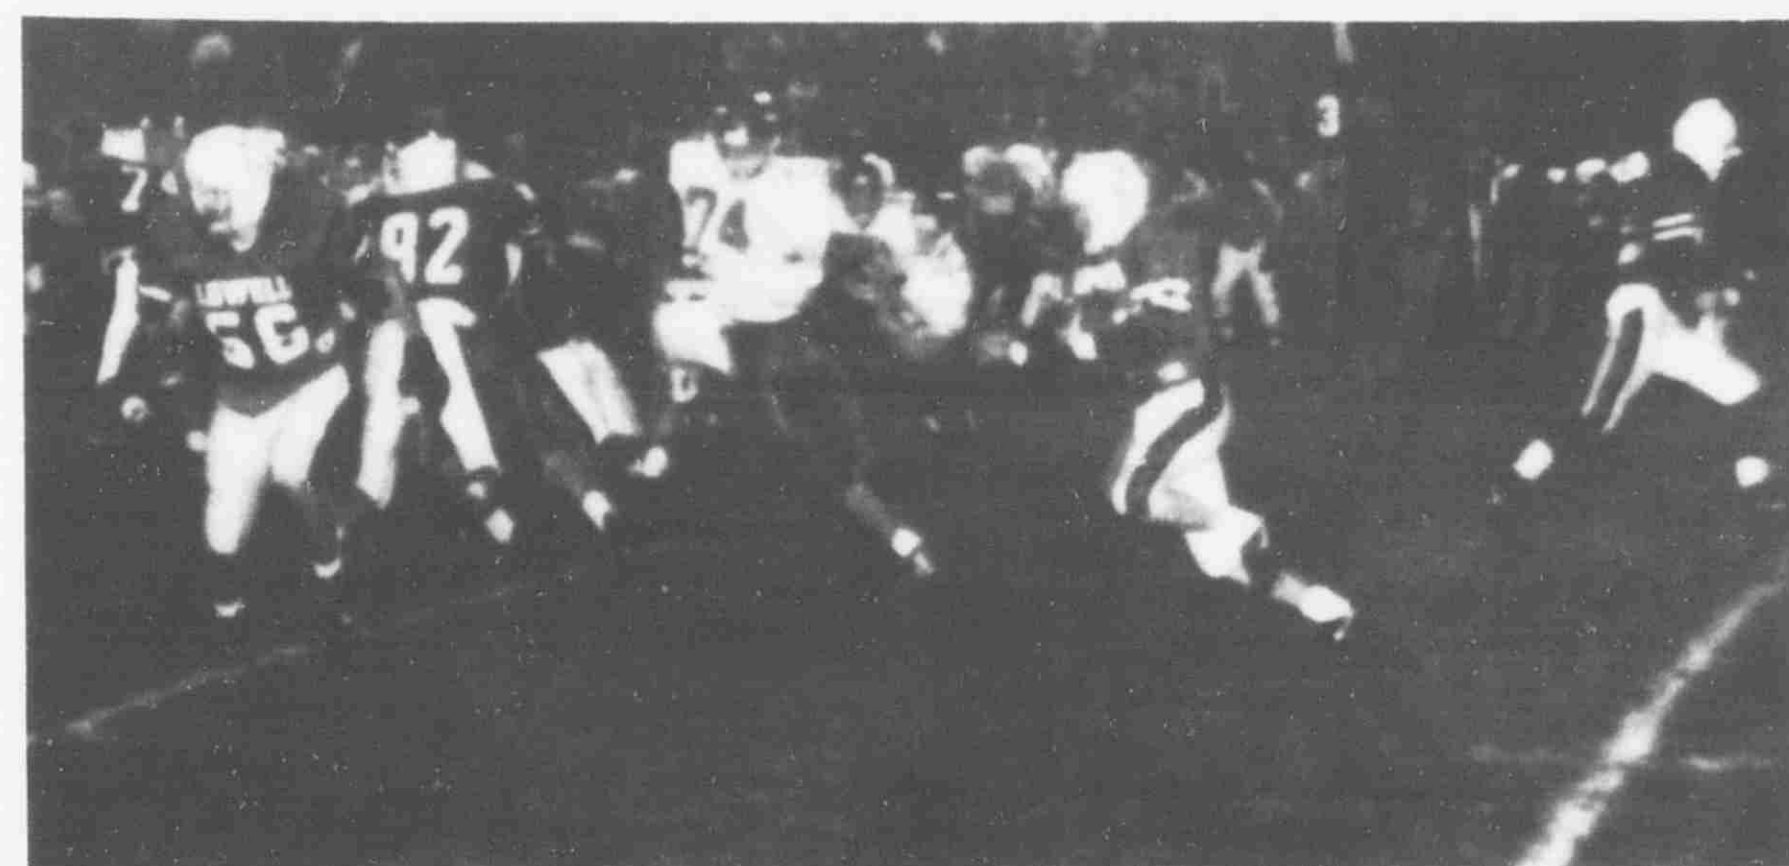

Actually, the Yellowjackets took advantage of a Joe Minier interception at the Lowell 13 yard line. Todd Baxter returned the interception to the Red Arrow five. Three plays later, Justin Colby took it in from two yards out. Greenville grabbed an 8-7 lead when the extra point snap was fumbled and then pitched to Zak Kemp who ran it into the endzone.

The score remained 8-7 until the third quarter. Then, on what Engel called the key play, Greenville's Jon Leslie completed a pass to Kemp over near the Red Arrow sideline, and the ball was knocked loose on a jarring hit by Lowell's Rob Kennedy. Greenville coaches questioned whether or not it was a completed pass. "That play changed the momentum," Engel said afterward.

The Greenville coach was right about that. Lowell turned that fumble into a seven play, 66 yard touchdown drive. Catlin did the scoring honors from 13 yards out, thanks to some tremendous blocking by Lowell's offensive line. Aaron Stencil ran around the right end for the two-point conversion, giving Lowell a 15-8 lead.

If the turnover that ended Greenville's first possession of the second half was big, than Chad Masengale's fumble on the Lowell seven yard line was larger than life. It stalled Greenville's best drive of the evening, and in all likelihood, prevented the Jackets from tying the score.

To Lowell's credit, it made Greenville pay for the mistake. The Red Arrows, executing Christensen's smash-mouth style football as well as they have all year, marched 93 yards in 11 running plays. Jim Inman capped the drive on a 24-yard burst over the right side. For Inman it was his second score of the evening. He finished his last high school game with 11 rushes for 71 yards. The score gave Lowell a 21-8 lead.

"We had people in the right spots on that drive, Lowell blocked them," Engel said. "Lowell's success on that drive wasn't because we were missing assignments, it's because they made good plays."

Lowell made it 27-8 three minutes later, following a George Ponchard interception. This time it was Joe Minier running the ball 20 yards for the score.

Greenville then added a touchdown in the final minutes against Lowell's second unit defense.

"Our defense played a heck of a game against a team that has good skilled players," Christensen said. "Our boys have played tough all year. The Wyoming Park game is the only game we felt we were out of."

For Christensen, a 1969 graduate from Greenville, the win was special. "Yeah, it's nice to beat your old school. I played with Justin Colby's father back in 1968," said a nostalgic Lowell coach.

Lowell held Greenville to 51 yards rushing on 23 carries. In the air Greenville was 12-of-19 for 153 yards with one interception and one touchdown.

The Red Arrows rushed for 291 yards on 49 carries. Through the air Lowell was 0-for-2.

Greenville finished the season at 2-7. Lowell finished up winning four of its last five games.

Richmond's foul shot rallies Lowell to 48-45 win

Imagine with me, if you will, you're a member of the Lowell girls' basketball team. You've been fouled as time runs out. The foul sends you to the free-throw line for a one-and-one. By the way, your team trails by two.

Is your heart beating any faster? Are the palms of your hands seeping moisture? Are your knees shaking ever so slightly?

For those of us who have never been in that situation it may not be possible to imagine just what Andrea Richmond was feeling Thursday night prior to stepping up to the line with her Red Arrows trailing, 42-40.

It became very much evident how her teammates felt after she sank both shots and sent the game into overtime, sparking Lowell to a 48-45 come-from-behind victory.

"This entire team is indebted to Andrea," Lowell coach Ken Akers said. "It takes an incredible amount of guts to stand up to the line like that and hit two free-throws."

In overtime, Richmond hit one of two foul shots to give Lowell a 43-42 lead with 2:37 to play.

A little over a minute later Amy Stauffer took a three-point shot from the left of the key, increasing Lowell's lead to four at 46-42.

Two foul shots by Jodi Bishop and a three-point shot by Sparta ended the scoring.

Of Lowell's 48 points, 41 came in the second half. The Red Arrows played a listless seven point first half.

"We were just going through the motions in the first half," Akers said. "I told the girls at halftime they were embarrassing themselves and the school."

Stauffer led all Lowell scorers with 15 points. Richmond followed with 13 points and a game-high 14 rebounds. Jodi Bishop tallied eight.

Sparta was led by its All-Conference candidate Sarah Hull with 13 points. Rhea Hendrick added 11.

Wyoming Park 52 Lowell 40

Wyoming Park coach Rich Pullen is enjoying the ride his Vikings are taking him on in 1992.

Park ended the week at 16-0 overall and 11-0 in the O-K White and looks to be on its way to its third O-K White title. The last two came in 1987 and 1990.

Lowell coach Ken Akers knew coming into the season his young squad would take its lumps, it's made easier with the knowledge that their turn at a conference title or two may be just a year or two away.

"You saw the difference between a very good basketball team and a young and upcoming team tonight," Akers said. "Park is well balanced, it passes the ball extremely well and it doesn't make a lot of mistakes."

Those comments followed the Vikings 52-40 win over Lowell. The game wasn't as close as the final score may indicate.

Lowell was led by Andrea Richmond with 10 points and 14 rebounds. Jodi Bishop tallied eight and Emily Davis scored seven points coming in off the bench.

Leslie Wagner led the Vikings with 18 points. Marian Bentley added nine and Pamela Bateman netted eight.

Lowell was led by Andrea Richmond with 10 points and 14 rebounds. Jodi Bishop tallied eight and Emily Davis scored seven points coming in off the bench.

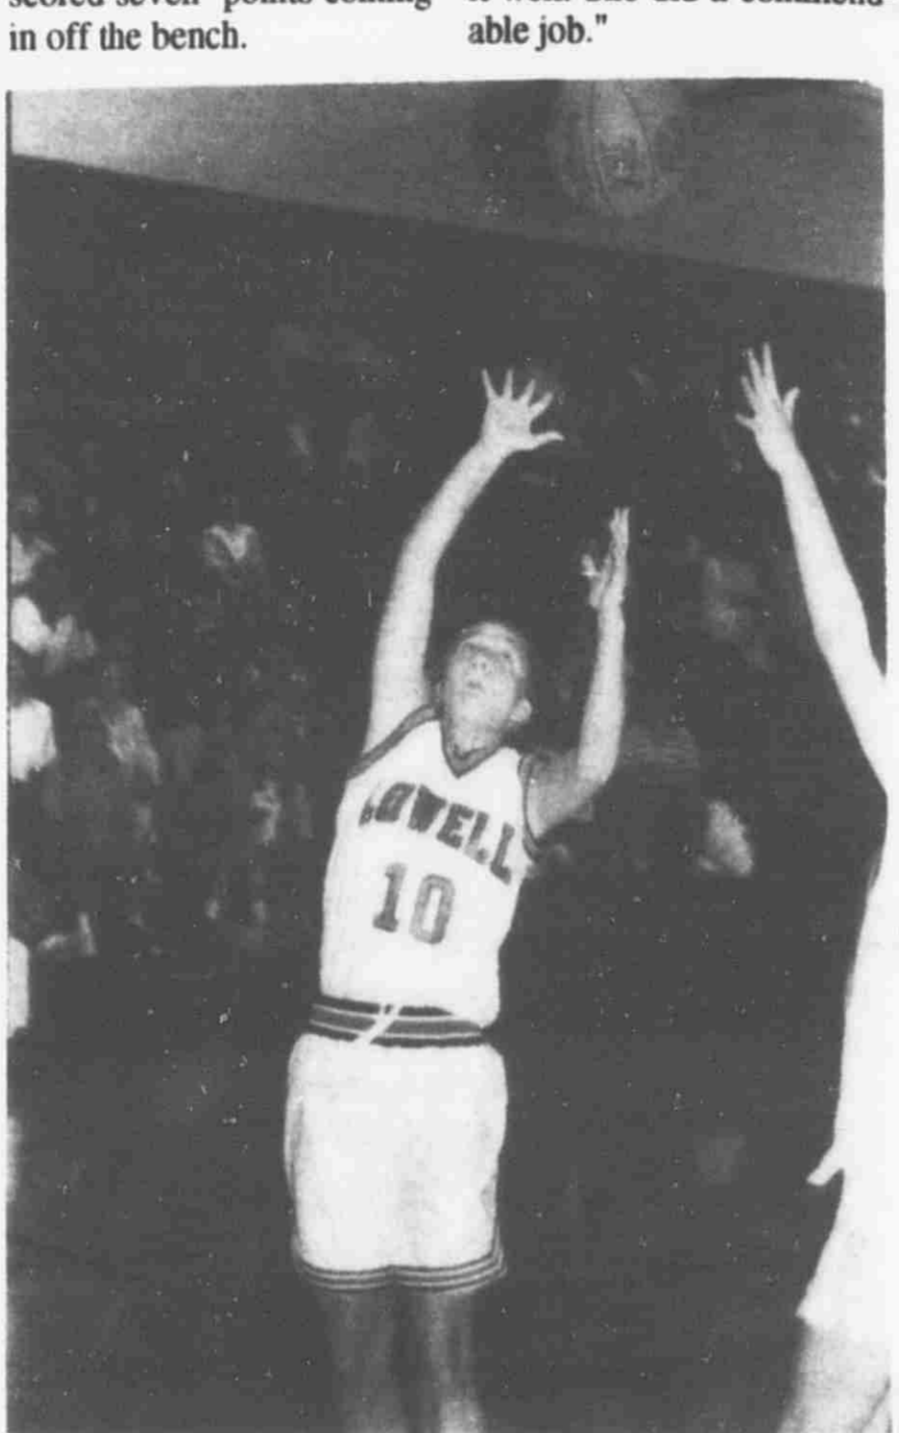

Red Arrow senior Jeni Francis was also rewarded for her four years of basketball with her first start of her career. "I thought Jeni handled it well. She did a commendable job."

"It's nice to see a player who is at every practice get a chance to play and have a big game," Akers said.

The Girls' junior varsity basketball team defeated Wyoming Park by a final score of 40-33, on Oct. 27.

Tammy Stauffer and Alison Kissinger led a well balanced scoring attack with 10 point each. Elena Richmond claimed at total of 10 rebounds to lead Lowell to a decided edge in team rebounding. Once again, a solid effort on defense was a key factor in the teams victory. The girls scored an impressive 54-33 win over Sparta, Oct. 29.

Alison Kissinger scored a season high 18 points to lead all scorers. All nine team members contributed in a good offensive effort. Tammy Stauffer and Kerry Nugent each totaled seven points;

Elena Richmond and Katie Haywood, six points; Cori Boersma and Sarah Wieland, four points and Cindy Kosnik and Jamie McCaul, two points.

"We continue to play good defense and the offense has improved. We have scored over 50 points in three of our last four games," said Lowell coach Wayne Townsend.

Item #5. REQUEST TO MICHIGAN AERONAUTICS COMMISSION TO ASSIST PAVING THE LOWELL CITY AIRPORT MAIN RUNWAY. City Manager Pasquale stated the Airport Board has been interested in providing improvements to the Lowell City Airport. He added the Board is in the process of completing an airport Master Plan along with resolving obstruction problems near Lincoln Lake Rd. A key element to the improvements is the asphaltting of the main runway (12-30). In viewing the future development of this facility, the asphaltting is a high priority of the Board. The estimate for the paving, which includes a 300 foot runway extension, is $168,480. The Michigan Aeronautics Commission can provide a 50% grant toward these improvements. Roger Brown, Chairman of the Airport Board, stated there are several funding options to supply the local share. These include hangar incomes, fuel sales, tie down rentals and the current airport fund balance of $13,000. He noted that there are hangars that will become property of the airport in the future and will generate additional revenue. In addition, there is an airport parcel of land by Vergennes Road worth approximately $20,000 - $25,000 that could be sold. The possibility of a grant from the Look Memorial Fund along with corporate donations is also being explored. In order to assemble the local financing, a commitment for a State grant is necessary. The Aeronautics Commission will consider this request at its November 18 meeting, assuming Council approval of the application. Councilmember Thompson questioned how much money the Airport owes for the improvements to the airport including the new hangar and road improvements. City Manager Pasquale responded the downpayment for the hangar built in 1990 was paid out of the airport fund along with the road improvements. Roger Brown stated a loan was taken out with the State of Michigan in the amount of $36,000. The hangar to be built this fall will have a $40,000 loan. Brown added the hangar rentals pay the loan, taxes and insurance plus generate $1,500 - 1,700 to the Airport. Thompson stated that the City needs to ensure that the Airport is self supporting.

IT WAS MOVED BY GREEN and seconded by HODGES to approve a contract addendum with Ken Shaler and Son Excavating, the paving could be accomplished for $8,400, financed through the Lee Fund. Depending upon the budget, phase two could be paved next year.

Item #2. CONSIDERATION OF THE WATER SUPPLY AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE CITY OF LOWELL AND LOWELL CHARTER TOWNSHIP. City Manager Pasquale explained that since the approval of the preliminary outline agreement by the Council and Township Board last summer, City Attorney Richard Wendt has worked to draw a comprehensive water service agreement. On October 13, representatives from both the City and the township met to review the draft. Wendt was present to provide the following highlights of the document:

- The City has the exclusive right to provide public water service to the township. The township cannot build their own system to provide water nor can water be bought from another public source to serve that area. The exception can be made in the future if the City's water system did not have sufficient capacity to serve the area. Wendt stressed that the City is making a substantial investment in its improvements to its water system. Therefore, it is very important that the City have an exclusive customer base.

- The second major provision concerned the establishment of rates and charges. The agreement provides that the initial rate for township water service will be $2.10 per thousand gallons. This rate will stay in effect until 6/30/94. Subsequently on a fiscal year basis, the City will set new rates for the township. In case of disagreement, the township cannot hold up payments but can petition for an arbitration of the rates.

- Wendt stated the agreement clearly provides which jurisdiction is responsible for what portion of the system. Up to the connection points, the operation and maintenance belongs to the City. Beyond the City limits and the connection points, the township has these responsibilities. The township may contract with the City for maintenance services.

Councilmember Thompson questioned whether each party pays for their own arbitrator. Wendt stated that each party will share the same cost of the arbitrator. In addition, Wendt stated there is a requirement for the Council to have a joint water advisory committee with the township. After reaching 80% of plant capacity, the water advisory committee will address the provision of expanding water services.

IT WAS MOVED BY GREEN AND seconded by HODGES to adopt a resolution approving the Water Supply Agreement between the City of Lowell and Lowell Charter Township.

Item #3. CONSIDERATION OF PRELIMINARY ENGINEERING SERVICES FOR THE WESTSIDE WATER SYSTEM IMPROVEMENTS. City Manager Pasquale stated the City needs to initiate preliminary engineering services for the westside water system projects. As presented in a letter from Tim McNamara of Fishbeck, Thompson! Carr and Huber, these services include surveying, soil borings, routing of the water main, site and floor plans, assistance in special assessments, meeting with the Michigan Department of Public Health and preparation of construction cost estimates. The total cost is $47,950 for these preliminary services. The total engineering cost is estimated at $226,000 out of a total project cost of $1,353,440. The westside improvements include extension of water mains, construction of a ground storage tank (800,000 gallon capacity), and a booster pump station to provide adequate pressure. Pasquale added that the City should initiate the bonding process in the spring and begin construction in the summer.

It was recommended that the Council approve the Fishbeck contract and authorize a loan from the General Fund to pay for these services. Pasquale added the loan will be repaid from bond proceeds which will finance the entire project.

Councilmember Thompson questioned if the City will open the engineering project to bidding to insure competitive pricing. Pasquale responded the engineering costs provided by Fishbeck are approximately 16% of the overall project cost and very close to engineering estimates for similar jobs. He added the firm has been very knowledgeable regarding this project. Councilmember Thompson questioned what the $23,350 for construction office on the project cost list entailed. McNamara explained this cost includes correspondence during the construction phase of the project, shop drawing reviews, settling disputes between contractors and the City, and any work performed by the construction engineer during the construction phase of the project. In addition, a significant amount of man hours was estimated to insure the project will be built to specifications.

IT WAS MOVED BY HODGES and seconded by THOMPSON to initiate engineering services for the westside water system improvements in the amount of $47,950 with the engineering firm of Fishbeck, Thompson, Carr and Huber. Further, a loan from the General Fund is approved to pay for these services and will be repaid from bond proceeds.

Item #4. DOWNTOWN DEVELOPMENT AUTHORITY - RESOLUTION OF INTENT AND SETTING PUBLIC HEARING DATE ON CREATION OF AUTHORITY (11/16). City Manager Pasquale explained that there have been several informational meetings sponsored through the Chamber of Commerce several informational meetings sponsored through the Chamber of Commerce since the last City Council session concerning the Downtown Development Authority. A proposed district boundary has been proposed by a study committee and a map was presented.

City Attorney Richard Wendt discussed what is involved regarding the legal requirements to form a DDA. He stated the first step in the process is the passage of a Council resolution of intent and setting a public hearing date to establishing a DDA. The purpose of the public hearing scheduled Monday, November 16 is to consider an ordinance whether a DDA should be formed and to establish boundaries of a downtown district. After the public hearing, it would be appropriate for the Council to consider adoption of the ordinance. A major portion of the work involved will be completed by a nine member authority board in preparing development and tax increment financing plans.

Wendt stated the district should include the downtown area of a community in order to prevent the deterioration of the property, improve property tax values, and to create economic growth. He concurred with the proposed district which included Main Street from Division to Alden Nash and involved industrial properties such as Chadalee Farms, Metric Manufacturing, Newell and King Milling. The proposal to include the Flat River islands to Attwood Corporation was not considered appropriate.

IT WAS MOVED BY HODGES and seconded by GREEN to approve a resolution of intent to establish a Downtown Development Authority and to set a public hearing for
